States told to ramp up Covid testing, vax drive

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AMID a surge in Covid cases, the Centre on Friday wrote to the Delhi government and six other states — Maharashtra, Odisha, Karnataka, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, and Telangana — asking them to speed up the vaccination drive and ensure adequate testing.

During the past month, Kerala reported 2,347 cases a day on an average while Maharashtra had 2,135, Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan said in his letter to these states.

Highlighting the situation in Delhi, Bhushan noted 8.2% of all new cases reported in India in the past week were from Delhi where the test positivity rate is up from 5.9% last week to 9.86% on Friday.

"It is critical for the states to ensure adequate testing is undertaken while maintaining the recommended share of RT-PCR and antigen tests. The states must also closely monitor districts reporting higher cases, positivity rates, and clusters," Bhushan said. He warned that upcoming festivals could lead to mass gatherings and potentially facilitate the transmission of Covid-19. He urged the states to ensure Covid norms are followed in crowded places such as markets, inter-state bus stands, schools, etc. He also emphasised the need to follow the five-fold strategy of test, track, treat, vaccinate, and adherence to Covid protocols.

CM BOMMAI TESTS POSITIVE FOR COVID

Bengaluru: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai tested positive for Covid-19 with mild symptoms and had to cancel his scheduled two-day official visit to Delhi on Saturday. He is under home isolation at his R T Nagar residence in Bengaluru. P4

DESPITE CASES, B'LURU URBAN NOT ON LISTS

Bengaluru Urban does not find a place in the Centre's list of 7 districts where Covid-19 testing has declined and in the 24 districts where cases are rising. Bengaluru Urban contributes to 90 to 95% of the state's Covid-19 cases. However, it is not included in the lists as testing is consistently high. P5

Jagdeep Dhankhar is India's next V-P

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NDA candidate Jagdeep Dhankhar was on Saturday elected India's 14th Vice-President, defeating joint Opposition candidate Margaret Alva by 346 votes. Dhankhar, former West Bengal governor, got an overwhelming 528 votes against Alva's182. Lok Sabha general secretary Utpal K Singh said 725, or 92.4%, of the total 780 MPs cast their ballots. Fifteen votes were found to be invalid.

The term of outgoing Vice-President Venkaiah Naidu will end on August 10.

The vice-president is elected indirectly by an electoral college comprising Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha MPs, including nominated members. Voting is via secret ballot and the process involves the proportional representation system using a single transferable vote.

> By directly or indirectly supporting BJP, some parties and their leaders damaged own credibility — Margaret Alva

Dhankhar, the first Jat to occupy the second highest constitutional position, was born at Kithana in Rajasthan's Jhunjhunu district. He graduated in physics and later law, and practised as a lawyer in the Rajasthan High Court and later in the Supreme Court.

In 1989, he was elected to the Lok Sabha from Jhunjhunu constituency. A year later, he became a minister in the Chandra Shekhar cabinet. After the fall of the Chandra Shekhar government, Dhankhar moved back to his home state Rajasthan. He, then, contested Assembly polls on Congress ticket and became an MLA in 1993. He joined the BJP in 2008.

Dhankhar's tenure as West Bengal governor was marked by frequent run-ins with the Mamata Banerjee government. While Dhankhar's victory was a foregone conclusion, Mamata-led TMC abstained from the poll process claiming it was not consulted on Alva's name. However, two TMC MPs — Sisir Kumar Adhikari and Dibyendu Adhikari — broke the party line and cast their ballots. P11

Anxious about students who have failed their SSLC examinations within his police station limits, inspector LY Rajesh helped 42 students pass the test through special coaching

THE MENTOR IN UNIFORM

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE archetypal image of a policeman — tough, phlegmatic, and immersed in his job of nabbing criminals — is sometimes shattered. After all, their duties entail serving the public, and while doing that, they must step out of the precincts of the police station, look beyond the khaki and find solutions to problems in society rather than evidence.

Raj Kumar, 16, is a native of Bihar, who found reading, writing, and speaking Kannada an onerous task, and he failed the SSLC exam which was held in May, 2022. His mother works as a cook in an apartment complex in HSR Layout, and being penurious meant he might have to discontinue his studies. Dispelling the gloom, strode in police inspector LY Rajesh of Bandepalya police station. Kumar, who speaks Maithili, had scored only 18 in the SSLC exam in May. With the help of 21-day special coaching arranged by Rajesh, his marks almost doubled to 34, and he was promoted. He will be joining Vijaya College for his PUC.

"I had a problem learning the basics. Teachers like Geetha and Manju V helped me understand the preliminary concepts. I wrote tests to prepare for the exam. 'Inspector sir' arranged for tutions, and breakfast every day, and, as a result, I passed. My total score was 355, which placed me in second class," said Kumar.

Like Kumar, V Reena from New Mother Theresa High School in Hosapalya failed the SSLC exam in May, obtaining 30 marks in Kannada and 27 in Hindi. Her father Veeranna, a fish seller at the local market, blamed the Covid-19-induced lockdown for his daughter's loss of concentration, and the eventual academic disaster. After attending the tuition classes which were arranged by Rajesh, she scored 50 in Kannada and 54 in Hindi.

As a metaphorical guru dakshina, Faizan Pasha, who is all set to join college after passing with 60 per cent marks, came down to the police station with a box of sweets to thank Rajesh. Pasha had scored only eight in Kannada which surged to 43 after tuitions. He has scored a total of 375.

Speaking to The New Sunday Express, Inspector Rajesh said, "After the result, I was worried about the students in my station limits who have failed. I feared that they might be compelled to shelve studies without assistance, and some of them could commit crimes." "During the investigation of one of my cases, an accused told me that after he had failed, there was no one to care for him. If someone had helped him to resume his studies, he would not have become a criminal. This led me to arrange for tuition for students from poor and vulnerable backgrounds during the SSLC exams. Of the 85 students who came for the tutions, 42 have passed. We are also trying to arrange for retotaling as it may help some of them clear the hurdle."

He was supported by an NGO Raajalanchana which sent its youth wing members to bring students and counsel them. The teachers were chosen from within the station limits, and permission was obtained from respective management to engage their staff in tuition for the needy students.

As the police were dealing with minors, he assigned sub-inspector Muzzamil Khan and Chikkanna Hajagowal as coordinators for the project.

After the results were announced in June, schools in the station limits were contacted, and a list of students was drawn. Their parents were called and explained about free tuition.

After their consent, an ID card was made for each student, and a WhatsApp group was created comprising teachers, police, and parents to monitor the students.

Since the classes were held from early morning till evening, Rajesh, through the apparatus of his network, arranged for food and snacks for students for 21 days. Swiggy had sponsored cake and juice. Hotel Arogya, Udupi, Hunger Camp, Chef Tech, and Gokul Garments supplied food.

"Our objective was to save an academic year for the students. We helped them revise, practice the probable questions, and explained the method of the exam, among other things," said Rajesh.

Salma Banu from Al-Rahi English school, who is still monitoring the remaining students who have failed in English and Social Science, lauded the police team for going beyond their charter of duties.

"The students are from different backgrounds. Most of them are poor and weak in their studies. Their parents are illiterate and a few of them were unemployed. When the students failed in their first attempt at the SSLC exam, they and their parents were depressed. At this critical hour, Bandepalya police station's inspector Rajesh and his team helped the students. They selected the best teachers to train them. He stood like a pillar, and gave them moral support," Salma Banu explained.

I feared that they might be compelled to shelve studies without assistance, and some of them could commit crimes. After Covid break of 2 years, lensmen hope for pretty pics

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

The Covid blow to middle and lower income groups has been hard, and 12 photographers, who depend on the Lalbagh Botanical Gardens for their livelihoods, too faced difficulties as the flower show was cancelled for the last two years. With the Independence Day Flower Show inaugurated on Friday, photographers hope to earn a decent sum.

One of the photographers, Raju M, said the flower show is an opportunity for them and local hawkers to get some good money. But on the first two days of the show, the turnout has been low because of incessant rain. "I came at 9 am and will wind up at 5.30 pm. I have clicked just one photo," he said on Saturday.

The demand for postcard-size photos was very high during the 1990s. Photographers charged Rs 15 for a small size photograph and Rs 50 for 4x6 size. Earlier, the photos were printed and sent to the addresses of people, he said. "Now, we can give prints instantly by connecting cameras to printers on the spot. A 4x6 size photo costs as little as Rs 100, still we do not have many takers. This is because everyone has a smartphone and click photos on their own," he added.

Some 15 years ago, there were close to 25 photographers at the flower show, but the numbers have come down over the years, he said.

Majestic Metro gets emergency care

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a laudable gesture to provide emergency care to its commuters, the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited has provided an Automated External Defibrillator (AED) at its bustling Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Metro station. The device helps in reviving someone from a cardiac arrest. BMRCL plans to install them in three more Metro stations shortly.

A S Shankar, Executive Director, Operations and Maintenance, BMRCL, said, "There are nearly 1 lakh footfalls on a daily basis at the Kempegowda station. So we decided to install it first here. The AED is placed in the Station Controller Room and staff have been trained to use them in case any commuter has an emergency," he said. Each unit costs Rs 1.5 lakh and BMRCL was purchasing them, he added.

Metro was looking at providing such AEDs at MG Road, Yesvantpur and Jayangar Metro stations. "The stations we plan to introduce them is a bit flexible," Shankar said.

Citizens for Citizens founder Rajkumar Dugar said the initiative was mooted by the organisation. "We really believe many lives can be saved if emergency support is provided instantly. We also gave training to the staff to operate the device."

Scientists: NEP promotes unscientific thinking

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SEVERAL citizens, scientists, researchers and students took part in the 6th edition of India March for Science held to protest against implementation of National Education Policy 2020 (NEP), at Freedom Park in Bengaluru on Saturday.

"Parts of NEP in Karnataka promotes unscientific thinking. There is a world-wide concern for a lack of evidence-based thinking in shaping public policies, a lack of support for sciences and rising inequities in the access to science. We must seriously ask why despite the wide embrace of technology by our society today at all levels, there is not a concomitant internalisation of the underlying science. Why unscientific thinking is prevalent among highly-educated citizens including scientists," said astrophysicist Prof Prajval Shastri.

Prof Sharad Lele, a researcher and fellow at Ashoka Trust for Research in Ecology and Environment, pointed out that the need to address environmental problems almost always came from a point of pseudoscience. "Promoting planting of trees as the solution for all problems, including drying up of rivers, is one example. We must carefully understand the natural science and social science dimensions of environmental problems. Technology empowers us to change the world, natural science predicts its impacts, social science illuminates our motives. But only an ethical framework tells us whether and how we should change," he said.

The promotion of Ayurveda was also brought up, with Dr Sudha Kamath, president of the Medical Service Centre, Karnataka, saying it was a matter of concern that the government allowed those with a degree in Ayurvedic Surgery to practice modern surgery, with no training in modern surgical methods.

Flood situation: CM tells babus to be on their toes

Instructs them to set up two SDRF teams, disburse compensation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai has instructed officials to constitute two additional State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) contingents to strengthen rain and flood relief and rescue operations in the state.

Bommai, who cancelled his scheduled trip to New Delhi after testing positive for Covid-19, held a video conference on Saturday with Deputy Commissioners of rain-affected districts and the ministers concerned.

As many as 70 people lost their lives and 507 livestock died due to the floods across the state since the onset of monsoon while crops on 1,29,087 hectares and horticulture crops on 7,942 hectares were destroyed, Bommai was informed.

The officials also furnished the details on the damages to houses, tanks, bridges and roads between June 1 and August 6.

Bommai told the officials there was no shortage of funds to take up relief and rehabilitation works as Rs 200 crore has been released for 21 districts. The DCs should disburse compensation for houses destroyed or damaged. They can also utilise the Rs 657 crore funds available in their accounts, the CM said.

There was no shortage of funds to take up relief and rehabilitation works as Rs 200 crore has been released for 21 districts

Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

Since SDRF and NDRF contingents have been deployed in the flood-hit areas of the state, the DCs should be in touch with them consistently to take up immediate relief and rehabilitation works, Bommai instructed.

Repair and restoration of roads, bridges and electric supply lines should be taken up immediately and power supply in villages should be restored through the Escoms concerned, he said.

Adequate stock of electric poles and transformers should be ensured. Crop loss survey should be completed at the earliest and compensation should be disbursed without any delay, Bommai advised.

The Chief Minister asked the officials to issue flood alerts well in advance and instructed them to take action in this regard at Bennehalla in Gadag district, Varada river banks in Haveri district and other places. "Alerts should be issued to villages downstream before releasing waters from reservoirs. Precaution should be taken to prevent breach of tank bunds. The officials should identify the areas prone to landslides in Kodagu, Dakshina Kannada and Uttara Kannada districts and shift the people in these areas to safer places. People should be provided with good quality food at the care centres," the CM advised.

SUNDAY INTERVIEW

ASHWINI M SRIPAD

'NEED AT LEAST A WEEK AFTER RAIN STOPS TO ASSESS DAMAGE'

IN the last 67 days, Karnataka witnessed 68 deaths due to heavy rain. The monsoon fury affected 14 districts, badly disrupting normal life. Thousands of houses were damaged and infrastructure, including roads and power supply network, has been badly hit. Over 1.38 lakh hectares of agricultural land were affected and farmers hoping for bumper crops are in distress. In an interview with The New Sunday Express, Revenue Minister R Ashoka speaks about the rain fury, challenges and measures taken by the state government in reaching out to people in rain-hit areas. Excerpts:

Opposition leaders accuse ministers of not visiting rain-affected areas...

Congress has the habit of making allegations without checking facts. I visited Kodagu, Udupi, Mandya, Karwar, Tumakuru, Hassan, Ramanagara, Chamarajanagar and other districts along with officials and district in-charge ministers. Let them get news clippings from local media to know whether we had been to the rain-hit areas or not. They are busy with 'Siddaramotsava' when the state is witnessing floods in many parts.

Has there been a delay in sending assessment reports to the Union government?

Every day, we are assessing the losses, including damage to buildings and other infrastructure. But we need to wait for the rain to stop to get a crop loss survey report. We cannot conduct a rain damage assessment survey at present as it is still raining in many places. We need at least a week after the rain subsides to assess crop loss.

What about the restoration of damaged infrastructure?

We need at least 10 days to restore power lines and also to provide temporary measures for roads that are damaged completely.

How about providing compensation to people in rain-hit areas?

Earlier it would take months, sometimes even a year or more to get compensation. With technology and work efficiency, it has now been reduced to 45 days. We have already released Rs 300 crore as compensation for loss of houses and other damage,. and another Rs 500 crore will be released soon. The compensation has been increased for horticulture and agriculture crops and it is double the amount as compared to NDRF norms. No other state has done this.

Why does the state face such a situation every year?

Rain is not in our hands. It is a natural phenomenon. Floods in Bengaluru and many other parts are due to indiscriminate construction and encroachments. That is the reason behind flooding and water-logging in some areas. Even officials have to be blamed for it.

What is being done to ensure proper coordination among various agencies?

We are using technology widely. We have purchased and rented boats and pumping machines to take out water and even cutting machines to remove trees. Earlier, there was no coordination between inter-state reservoir management. Now, we have proper coordination. We also have WhatsApp groups. There is better coordination among various stakeholders, including the Fire Services, police, revenue and power departments to ensure speedy rescue and to reduce damage.

What changes have been made at rehabilitation centres?

Earlier, people who were rescued were placed in "Ganji Kendras" and now they have changed into relief camps. Only rice and rasam or porridge were served earlier. But now, we are giving nutritious food that is suitable to their food habits. This apart, people at relief camps are also given soap, toothpaste, toothbrush and other essential items. Congress leaders never thought of this when they were in power.

FIR filed against JDS MLA for abusing foresters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE forest department has filed a complaint against JD(S) MLA Suresh Gowda in the Nagamangala Rural police station accusing him of abusing and threatening foresters.

Based on the complaint, the police have filed an FIR against 10 people, including the MLA, for threatening the foresters who had prevented villagers from illegally axing trees in the deemed forest land at Halti village in the taluk.

In the FIR filed at 11.30 pm on Friday, Nagamangala RFO Sathisha B said that on August 4 when they were clearing encroachments in Halti forest land, MLA Gowda prevented them from performing their official duty and threatened them with dire consequences.

Based on the complaint, Nagamangala police registered an FIR under IPC Section 143 (unlawful assembly), 504 (insult), 506 (criminal intimidation), 353 (assault or criminal force to deter public servant from discharge of his duty) and 149 (unlawful assembly guilty of offence committed of common object) and started the investigation.

On Saturday, the forest staff under the supervision of Deputy Commssioner Aswathi, SP Yathish N and forest department CF Malathi Priya carried out the encroachment clearing operation to reclaim the forest land.

After Siddu's bash, Param keeps his b'day low key

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Tumakuru

FORMER deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara, who lost despite running for the chief minister's post in 2013, seems to have made a cautious move to keep a low profile this time as his 71st birthday celebration remained a low-key affair on Saturday.

His supporters had planned to celebrate it in a big way at his Koratagere Assembly constituency, but Parameshwara, after seeing a huge turnout at Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah's birthday bash in Davanagere on August 3, asked them to go slow. He, however, maintained that the mega event was cancelled considering the misery of his constituents because of heavy rain.

"Siddaramaiah's birthday bash helped Congress organise strongly and gave us a shot in the arm. Not just the birthday bash, but maladministration of the BJP government too will help us return to power after the 2023 Assembly polls," he told reporters.

Still, his supporters put up publicity material all over the town as planned and thousands of them gathered at his residence at Gollahalli off Bengaluru-Shivamogga NH-206. Siddaramaiah called him over the phone and wished him earlier in the morning. His bete noire within the party and Leader of Opposition in the Legislative Council BK Hariprasad personally visited the 'original' Congress leader Parameshwara by travelling all the way from Bengaluru and greeting him.

Taralabalu seer Shivamurthy Shivacharya Swamiji and people from all walks of life visited Parameshwara.

"Gentleman and senior Congress leader Honorable Shri Dr G Parameshwara, Happy Birthday. I pray to Guru Dattatreya to grant long life and good health to Parameshwara who is always engaged in public service," tweeted BJP National General Secretary CT Ravi.

The BJP leadership has turned sympathetic towards Parameshwara, alleging that it was Siddaramaiah who allegedly snubbed Dalit leaders in Congress and also ensured Parameshwara's defeat in the 2013 Assembly polls. The saffron party will continue to focus on the Dalit chief minister issue to nail the Congress party, especially Siddaramaiah, sources said.

GAJAPAYANA

Netas, officials divided over making Dasara jumbos walk 76 km to Mysuru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE much-awaited Gajapayana to mark the beginning of the world-famous Dasara festivities has kicked up a controversy over whether jumbos should be made to walk 76 km from the forest or bring them here by trucks. At a Dasara committee meeting here, BJP MLC AH Vishwanath locked horns with district in-charge minister ST Somashekar and forest officials over the issue.

While Vishwanath said Dasara elephants, led by Abhimanyu, should walk, District in-charge Minister ST Somashekar insisted that they should be transported by trucks, leading to heated arguments. Vishwanath said bringing elephants in trucks beats the purpose of Gajapayana.

It was Vishwanath who introduced Gajapayana during the SM Krishna government by formally welcoming Dasara elephants at Veeranahosahalli in Nagarhole forest of Hunusr to send out a message that Dasara festival is on.

On Saturday, Deputy Conservator of Forests V Karikalan pointed to a Supreme Court order which specifies that elephants should not be made to walk for more than 15 km. He feared for the safety of jumbos as they have to trek on asphalted roads. He said the jumbos will be forced to walk 27 km a day to cover 76 km and reach Mysuru before August 10. Not convinced Vishwanath threatened to protest if the elephants are brought by trucks.

Jumbos at the Matigodu camp | EXPRESS

Congress MLA Tanveer Sait suggested that the issue of bringing Dasara elephants can be discussed next year as the programme has been finalised to welcome the jumbos.

When Vishwanath suggested that the ceremony of welcoming the elephants at the Mysuru Palace be put off, Somashekar said there is no point in bearing down on officers. He said the issue can be finalised after holding talks with Forest Minister Umesh Katti, who is already camping in Nagarhole.

Somashekar said the forest department has finalised 14 Dasara elephants and nine of them will arrive in the first batch and five in the second batch.

He said the Mysore Palace Board will release Rs 5 crore and Mysore Urban Development Authority Rs 10 crore for Dasara celebrations, while the deputy commissioner will seek funds from the government.

Somashekar said the Dasara High-Powered Committee, chaired by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, decided to celebrate Dasara grandly this year, as no celebrations could take place for the last two years because of Covid. He said Bommai will decide on inviting the state guest to inaugurate the Dasara festivities.

BBMP now says Idgah ground is Revenue Dept's

Joint commissioner cancels earlier order asking Wakf Board to prove ownership

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE BBMP, which was verifying the documents pertaining to the contentious Chamrajpet Idgah maidan, has ruled that the land belongs to the Revenue Department. According to the documents shared by the BBMP with The New Sunday Express, the order signed by the joint commissioner (West) was issued on Saturday.

The ownership of the property number 147 measuring 2.5 acres was challenged by Rakan-Ul-Mulk and Abdul Wajid in 1955. There was an injunction against the corporation to enter the land by the Munsif court. The the municipality filed appeals at the Supreme Court and High Court, but the Wakf Board got the ruling in its favour. A gazette notification favouring the Khazi Idgah land to the Board was issued in 1965.

Since the Board did not claim the khata, which should have been done within three years of the court verdict, the ownership was subject to debate. After Hindu outfits recently demanded that the land be given out for hoisting the Tricolour and other events, the Wakf Board objected. The BBMP Commissioner then ordered the joint commissioner (West) to verify the ownership.

The BBMP sent notices and gave 42 days to the Board to submit all the records to prove ownership. Since it failed to claim the rights of the land at Survey No 40, the joint commissioner, under quasi-judicial powers, passed the order stating that under the BBMP Act 2020, Section 149, the Palike cancelled its earlier order asking the Board to apply for khata and termed it a Revenue Department property and asked the officials concerned from the Revenue Department to apply for khata.

Walf Board Chairman Shafi Saadi said, "Since it is a defeat for the BBMP, they are trying to bring in the Revenue Department. We have strong records and our legal team will now take up the fight against the Revenue Department."

S Bashkaran, president, Vishwa Sanathana Parishad, said, "The BBMP delayed the announcement deliberately to avoid the platinum jubilee celebration of our Independence Day. To apply for permission with the Bengaluru Urban deputy commissioner and getting permission will take many weeks. We won't wait for it. Vishwa Sanathana Parishad and Srirama Sene will march into the ground on August 15 along with thousands of our karyakartas."

City reports wall collapse in three separate areas

The building which collapsed on Avenue Road on Saturday | VINOD KUMAR T

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH incessant rainfall lashing the city, incidents of wall collapse are being reported from various places. Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said that a dilapidated building collapsed in Mamulpet near Avenue Road at 4 am on Saturday. The building collapsed as it was not maintained properly, he said.

In another incident, a portion of a wall at K R Market's waste processing unit also gave way due to the same reason. Another incident of wall collapse was reported in Ward No. 143 in Chickpet in Yarappa Reddy Layout. No casualties were reported in all the three incidents.

In K R Market, Girinath admitted that the waste processing unit was in a shambles and needed urgent repair. He said the biogas unit was not working and leachate were flowing out of the toilets. Since there was no proper facility in place, people continued to dump waste.

The BBMP chief said they were working with Smart City Limited on addressing the issue by providing push carts, waste collection facilities and constructing new facilities. He said the civic body was also working on relocating the biogas plant from K R Market to some other place.

When asked about arrangements for Ganesha Chaturthi celebrations in the wake of rising Covid-19 cases, Girinath said he would discuss the matter with experts and then take a decision. Asked whether it will be similar to that of last year - when one idol per ward was permitted - Girinath said the matter will be looked into. He however asserted that guidelines of Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) and National Green Tribunal (NGT) banning idols made of Plaster of Paris and toxic paints will be followed. Guidelines on idol immersion using mobile immersion facilities and buckets at home - will also be followed.

CENTRE FLAGS DROP IN COVID TESTING, RISE IN CASES IN STATE

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

TAKING note of the rising Covid-19 cases in Karnataka, the Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare has shot off a letter to the state health department saying that testing has come down in seven districts and cases have shot up in 24 districts in a span of one week. The ministry has referred to cases rising in the week ending August 24 as compared to the week ending July 28.

Interestingly, while Bengaluru Rural is listed in both the categories, Bengaluru Urban is not on the list. An official in the state health department said, "Bengaluru contributes to 90-95 per cent of the case load. But it does not figure because despite the testing target being met, cases are rising. This is due to the floating population, change in weather conditions and lesser cases reaching hospitals."

The official admitted that Bengaluru Rural being listed in both categories is a cause for concern as the region had done well in vaccination and testing. Also, since many staying in Bengaluru Rural come to urban areas for work or travel overseas, more caution will now have to be exercised here, when compared to Bengaluru Urban jurisdiction.

In the letter addressed by Rajesh Bhushan, Secretary, Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare to the Principal Secretary of the department T K Anil Kumar, he stated: "Karnataka has been reporting higher average daily new cases since the past one month (1,355 average cases per day), with a high of 1,992 cases reported on August 5. The state contributes to 10.1 per cent of India's weekly new cases during the same period. It has recorded 1.28 times increase in average daily new cases from 1,435 to 1,837 and positivity rate has increased from 5.30 per cent to 6.28 per cent.

The ministry listed - Chikkamagaluru, Bagalkote, Koppal, Ramanagara, Haveri, Kalaburgi and Bengaluru Rural where testing has dropped.

It listed Mysuru, Belagavi, Hassan, Bengaluru Rural, Kalaburgi, Tumakuru, Mandya, Ballari, Kodagu, Kolar, Raichur, Bagalkote, Uttara Kannada, Shivamogga, Chamarajanagara, Davangere, Bidar, Udupi, Haveri, Koppal, Chikkamagaluru, Gadag, Chitradurga and Ramanagara - where cases have increased by 1.03-2.88 times.

A state health department official reacted: "Karnataka's testing target set by Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) is 30,000, but 28,000-29,000 are being done. In some districts, testing is not being done for all, but is limited to hospitals. Rise in cases is because of the Omicron variant. We had expected a fourth wave to hit and this could be it. But we do not want to create panic or alarm as cases reaching hospitals are less. People are reporting bodyache, cold and fever."

CASES OF GENDER VIOLENCE HAVE DOUBLED IN LAST 5 YEARS

Bengaluru: Cases of gender-based violence have almost doubled in the last five years and there is a need to educate doctors and train medical students on their role in handling such cases, forensic expert Dr Jagdeesh Reddy said. Speaking at a workshop on Saturday, Dr Reddy suggested that doctors and hospitals should have standard operating procedures (SOPs) to deal with abuse cases to ensure that no person is devoid of their rights and proper care is provided. Mandatory reporting to police, no denying of treatment under any circumstances, ensuring guidance for necessary counselling when required, rehabilitation and vocational training are duties of all doctors under the National Medical Council mandate, he said. Despite many issues, B'gavi wins Smart City award

@ Belagavi

AT a time when several infrastructure development works taken up under Belagavi Smart City Project have come under criticism from various quarters for their poor quality and implementation, surprisingly Belagavi Smart City has won the Inclusivity Award instituted by National Institute of Urban Affairs (NIUA) Smart Solutions Challenge for Inclusive cities.

The Smart Solutions Challenge is an initiative of the National Institute of Urban Affairs (NIUA) and United Nations in India to address the city-level accessibility and inclusion challenges.

The initiative seeks to leverage innovative solutions for achieving sustainable development goals and provide universal access to safe, inclusive, and accessible, green, and public spaces, in particular for women and children, older persons, and persons with disabilities'. The category was PAN City Implemented Solutions and Belagavi Smart City won the first position for its Multi-Dimensional Inclusiveness in Education and Healthcare.

However, shocked over the parameters based on which the Belagavi Smart city was given the first rank, Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) has questioned the logic behind giving such a prestigious award to Belagavi. Stating that a highest number of sub-standard works had been taken up under the Belagavi Smart City Project

I-T RAIDS ON TN FILM INDUSTRY BIGGIES UNEARTH ₹200 CR

Searches conducted in 40 places on Aug 2

@ CHENNAI

UNDISCLOSED income of more than Rs.200 crore was detected during income tax searches carried out against producers, distributors and financiers associated with Tamil film industry on August 2.

The search operations were conducted in at least 40 places in Chennai, Madurai, Coimbatore and Vellore. Undeclared cash of Rs.26 crore and gold jewellery worth more than Rs 3 crore were seized during the operation, the I-T department said.

Evidences also indicated collection of unaccounted cash from theatres and formation of syndicates by distributors to systematically underreport collections to suppress actual income, sources said.

In the case of film production houses, the actual amount realized from the sale of films was much more than the amount shown in the books of accounts, hinting at possible tax evasion, sources said. The unaccounted income was then used for undisclosed investments and making undeclared payments, an I-T department spokesperson said.

Top film producers, financiers and distributors of the State, including Anbu Chezhiyan, Kalaipuli Thanu, SR Prabhu and Gnanavel Raja, came under the I-T department's scanner in the recent searches.

According to film industry sources, this was the biggest I-T search operation carried out in recent days.

The department, however, did not give any breakup of the undisclosed income or cash or jewellery seized from various producers, distributors and financiers. The searches on film financiers unearthed documents like promissory notes relating to unaccounted cash loans that were given to various film production houses and others, sources said.

Several incriminating documents and digital evidences relating to unaccounted cash transactions and investments have also been seized. Secret and hidden chambers have also been unearthed during the searches, the spokesperson added.

Officials inspect villagers at a makeshift hospital in Ankanal village | EXPRESS

In another incident of contaminated water affecting people, over 50 villagers from Ankanal in Sandur taluk were hospitalised on Saturday. It is the second such incident in Ballari district in a span of a fortnight. Ten days ago, a girl in Gonal village died and 30 people were treated in a hospital after drinking contaminated water.

In fact after the Gonal incident, the administration took a slew of measures to avoid recurrence of such incidents and doctors were continuously monitoring the situation in rural areas. Despite these precautions, there has been a second breakout. Lab reports stated that people from Ankanal fell ill after consuming contaminated water.

The administration is now trying to trace the source of impure water. District Health Officer Dr Janardhan HL said the situation is under control and all safety measures have been taken. Villagers are now being supplied processed water and it will continue for a few more days. They have also been told to drink only boiled and cooled water.

"A makeshift hospital with 20 beds has been set up at the village and a team of doctors is also stationed to ensure their availability round-the-clock. Three ambulances with staff have been kept on reserve. Nearly 20 people are recovering, while the rest have been sent back home. Senior officials from the administration too have been stationed at the village," he added.

Another senior officer said that they are looking into reasons behind water contamination. The villagers have been told not to panic and all necessary measures are being taken by the district administration. The people are asked to visit the makeshift hospital immediately if they suffer from any health issues.

No commissioner, no engineer, second div assistant solely runs show at KUDA

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

BELIEVE it or not. A Second Division Assistant (SDA) has been running the show solely in Kolar Urban Development Authority (KUDA), around 70 km from Bengaluru, for the past several years with no other staffers, including the commissioner. This is the reason KUDA has failed to make use of the available income to provide infrastructure to residents of Sri Devaraj Urs Layout formed by it 26 years ago.

This is one of the major findings in the report, dated June 4, 2022, submitted to Lokayukta Justice BS Patil by the police wing. The report states that except the SDA, all other posts, such as commissioner, land acquisition officer, assistant executive engineer, accountant, superintendent of accounts, data entry operator, first division assistant and others, are vacant. The only officer of another department, who is working as incharge commissioner, has failed to provide infrastructure to the layout, the report added.

The layout, formed in 1994-95 and spread across 121 acres 3 guntas, is situated next to the National Highway-75 near Tamaka village. In all, 1,426 sites were distributed after providing facilities like kutcha roads and drains with culverts. But it was found that some sites, including corner ones, were being sold recklessly. KUDA has utterly failed to provide basic infrastructure, like drinking water, proper road, electricity, drainage, garbage disposal and underground drainage to 148 houses in the layout, it said.

The Lokayukta police said that KUDA, which has Rs 8.71 crore balance at present, is expecting revenues of Rs 69.03 crore in the current fiscal. It is necessary to appoint a permanent commissioner, technical staff and others to make use of resources and hand over the layout with proper infrastructure to the city municipal council. Justice Patil, initiating suo motu proceedings based on the investigation report following a petition filed by the Sri Devaraj Urs Layout Residents' Welfare Association, sought explanation from the Urban Development Department secretary and KUDA commissioner.

HC upholds grant of land to Joy Ice Creams

Bengaluru: The Karnataka High Court upheld the grant of land, measuring 3 acres 23 guntas, in favour of Joy Ice Creams at Pattandooru in the city, which was later transferred to Prestige Estate Projects Pvt Ltd in 2006.

Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice JM Khazi upheld the order dated October 6, 2017 passed by a single judge, confirming the grant of land, dismissing the appeals filed by the state government and Samaja Parivarthana Samudaya, challenging the single judge's order.

On the contention that the construction of apartments on the land is unauthorised, the court said the building has been raised after the Bangalore Development Authority approved the building plan and no one questioned it then.

The single judge had held that the transfer made in favour of Joy Ice Creams by a registered sale deed was an absolute transfer. Joy Ice Creams is the owner of the land with Survey Numbers 160 and 157, where it had set up a factory. In the middle of this property is a piece of land measuring 3 acres and 23 guntas in Sy No 42. The state government leased out the land to Joy Ice Creams in October 1989.

DK post offices receive thousands of defective flags from Gujarat

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

THOUSANDS of national flags that have reached post offices across Dakshina Kannada as part of 'Har Ghar Tiranga' campaign under 'Azadi Ka Amrut Mahotsav' are not in saleable condition. Since the beginning of this month till Saturday, the postal department has received over 30,000 polyester made tricolours from different vendors in Gujarat. Sources said thousands of these products are defective because of sewing or cutting defects. The saffron, white and green stripes are not in equal proportion, size does not conform to the 3:2 ratio and the Ashok Chakra is not in the right place.

Many are even tattered, sources said. The post offices have received directions to push the sale of tricolours and return those rejected by customers. The officials who came to know about the defective flags, have asked the staff at the counters in the post offices to be doubly careful while handing them over to customers. "We have been told not to sell any defective flag and check before handing them to customers," said a post office staff in Mangaluru.

The defective flags | EXPRESS

However, the real worry comes from the bulk sales. In the last two days, post offices in Puttur, Kokkada, Madanthyar, Belthangady and Surathkal have seen people purchasing in bulk which the staff in the counters are simply handing over without checking if the flags are in proper condition. "How can we check thousands of flags? It's not easy. However, if they come back with defective flags, we will certainly replace them with good ones," said an officer on the condition of anonymity.

Post offices are told to keep the flag sale counters open even on general holidays and Sundays till Independence Day. The officers are expecting a huge rush a day or two before the I-Day from customers and those wanting to replace the defective ones. N Sriharsha, Senior Superintendent of Posts, Mangaluru Division, said they had received defective flags in the first consignment and they sold only the good ones after segregation. In the second consignment of 20,000 flags received on Friday, almost all are in good condition, he maintained.

BBMP offices to exchange flags

BBMP Special Commissioner, Administration, Rangappa, also in-charge nodal officer for 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav', told The New Indian Express that 10 lakh flags procured from the Kannada and Culture Department are being sold by the BBMP, of which only five per cent are reported to have defects. However, the count is only increasing.

The defects include incorrect size of Ashoka Chakra, it being oval instead of round, the width and size of the Tricolour not being uniform, the charkha (spinning wheel) printed twice, the size of the flag not being as per the flag code or the colours on the flag not being appropriate.

Rangappa added that since people are buying the flags, there is no monetary loss to the BBMP. But defective flags are piling up. Another senior BBMP official added that the image of the government is taking a beating as many have taken to social media to troll the initiative and efforts undertaken. "Instead of promoting and celebrating the event, they are posting images of defective flags", he said.

INFLATION: ITS ECONOMICS AND ITS POLITICS

THE THIRD EYE

SHANKKAR AIYAR
Author of The Gated Republic, Aadhaar: A Biometric History of India's 12 Digit Revolution, and Accidental India
shankkar.aiyar@gmail.com

IF inflation continues to soar, you're going to have to work like a dog just to live like one. The quip, dripping in dark humour, by American comedian and actor George Gobel is resonating globally.

The origins of the phrase inflation, the lexicon informs, can be traced to the 14th Century. It has evolved in its journey through literature into textbooks of economics. In the old world, as Shakespeare wrote, lending money gratis 'brings down the rate of usance here with us in Venice.' In the modern world, easy money fuels inflation and erodes the purchasing power of incomes.

Inflation used to be short-hand for too much money chasing too few goods. In a globalised world inflation represents price outcomes triggered by causes ranging from demography to dollar domination and of course created money. Between the arrival of the Covid-19 virus and the vaccines, countries printed money to keep economies afloat. The effects of excess were aggravated by shortage – disruption in food and energy markets following Russia's war on Ukraine.

The price of free lunch aka profligacy, is being paid for by the world. Consumer price inflation is raging above 9 per cent in developed economies and in double digits in over 50 other countries. As this column observed a few weeks back, with the RBI and central banks flying blind, people can do little but brace for the impact.

The phantom of inflation has come home to haunt Indians. On Friday, the Indian National Congress took to the streets draped in black to showcase their disaffection with the government and its policies. It is debatable whether form -- the colour adopted for the protest -- added value to the function. The party got attention alright but what was the message to the people. Given the intellectual ballast it boasts of, the party could have presented a viable/feasible view of what could be done to alleviate the scourge of rising prices, particularly on households and MSMEs.

The blockade of the monsoon session reflects the incapacity of parties to yield ground for a greater common good and conquer minds. As a party with an unassailable majority and expanding electoral footprint, the BJP could have afforded space and challenged the Congress and other parties to present a viable alternative policy model on the floor of parliament. A report by CRISIL shows food inflation in eight states – ruled by BJP and non BJP parties – is sub-6 per cent, lower than the national average. Surely there must be lessons here worth sharing. In parliament and outside, media and public attention could have been leveraged to debate/present a menu of competing ideas/solutions.

Mitigating solutions are born at the intersection of creative political tension – between the ruling front and the opposition. Politics cannot be simply an argument industry emitting a mass of verbiage and rhetoric. Surely the political class of a democracy celebrating 75 years of Independence --in all its richness, vibrancy and argumentative colours – can do better by its people. That is not manifest in the discourse of dissent in parliament or outside.

Amidst the dharna drama, the Reserve Bank of India on Friday hiked repo rates (the rate at which banks borrow money from the central bank) by 50 basis points or half a per cent to curb inflation. By its own estimation, inflation is expected to be at 6.7 per cent for the year and will be well above the 4 per cent target level even in Q1 of 2023-24. Clearly the RBI needs to do more. There is much lather about the repo rate being at a higher level than pre-pandemic levels. That observation has limited relevance given the current context. As Governor Shaktikanta Das observed, "globalisation of inflation is coinciding with deglobalisation of trade". The 'friend-shoring' of supply chains adopted by developed economies has implications for India's exports, the current account gap and the value of the currency – remember, the RBI has already drawn down around $50 billion to defend the rupee.

On Wednesday, the Bank of England hiked rates by 50 basis points, the highest in 27 years, and forecast peak inflation of 13.3 per cent and an 18-month recession. On Friday, the US Federal Reserve discovered the labour market was hotter than expected, triggering expectations of what Fed Chief Jerome Powell calls "unusually high" rate hikes. The trajectory of rate hikes will widen the interest rate differential between India and the developed economies. It will impact portfolio flows and the cost of capital.

The front loading of rate hikes will tighten financial conditions and inhibit foreign funds flow into portfolio and direct investment. Rising day-to-day cost of living and the loss of wealth effect will impact consumption and growth. This could aggravate the imbalance in expenditure and revenues. To sustain growth and burnish the allure of India, the government will have to front-load reforms.

The road ahead is paved with uncertainty – and the US-China-Taiwan saga is yet unravelling. India is yet the fastest growing large economy, but it will be impacted by the spectre of the global slowdown. The Modi Government has lauded itself for its inflation management. It now faces the challenge of engineering a low-cost, high-growth economy.

ED SAVES GANDHIS IN CONGRESS POWER GAME

Not every hero is a martyr, but every martyr is a hero. The family at the centre of the Congress party must be hoping for their martyrdom at the hands of the Enforcement Directorate (ED), as it questions its key members on various alleged malfeasances, giving it hero status. The Gandhi family history has shown that setting agencies of the state upon any one of them usually unleashes their inner martyr. It did so when Indira Gandhi was targeted by the Janata Party government for her misdemeanours during the Emergency. Could the same happen with her daughter-in-law and grandchildren? As the Congress party closes ranks on its first family, could it return the Gandhis to the centrestage of this nation's politics, as they court arrest, jump barricades, wag fingers at those in power? And for once, all this is getting disproportionately high visibility on prime time TV and on front pages of newspapers all over the country. The higher the octave, the greater the echo. The live coverage of the Gandhis visiting the ED office for hours has once again enhanced the recall value of Congress as the principal opposition party. For political leaders, no news is bad news. And for Congress, the bad news is turning out to be the best news in more ways than one, reviving its dysfunctional rank and file to participate in protests taking place in any parts of the country; waking up its almost dormant organisation and enthusing committed Congress workers who were in the wilderness for lack of any constructive or agitational programmes.

The result, the Gandhis, who appeared to be in imminent decline, have turned out to be beneficiaries of the current probe. Sonia Gandhi continues to be its Interim President. There is total silence on the part of those expecting change and democratic elections. With Gandhis under ED's scanner, the possibility of holding elections in the near future looks almost impossible. It was a mere few months ago that Congress had charted a four phase election schedule to elect new office bearers from the district level to the AICC president. The party hasn't even completed the first phase of enrolling new members by March 31, 2022. By the end of last month, all the office bearers of the states and AICC members should have been elected. The electoral college was expected to elect the AICC president and CWC members by September-October. While the Rahul faction wanted him to take over as AICC president, he has so far stuck to his position of not taking over any formal responsibility in the party. But it is more because of disputes over his eligibility, desirability and capacity to lead the party, which has been delaying the elections as well. The old guard wants Sonia to continue as the President as they feel that she would be in a better position to deal with the non BJP opposition than her temperamental son. If she retains the post by default, Rahul would be calling the shots anyway, as he did in the recently concluded Rajya Sabha elections. Holding genuinely democratically conducted organisational elections isn't the virtue of the Gandhis. As Salman Khurshid said so wisely: "I'll come to save my leader, my leader saves me." It's another way of saying they are the Congress and the Congress is them, with apologies to Louis XIV. For now, it seems unlikely there will be either Congress-must Bharat or Gandhi-mukt Congress. They may have been out of the mind of the voters for many years. But they are back in sight, at least for now. Brand Gandhi has captured valuable market space. The question is, will it sell?

FAKE RATINGS CORRUPTION FACE AGENCY KARMA

The Congress and the other opposition parties aren't the only targets of the investigation agencies and regulators like the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). Nudged by the ED and the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI), the RBI has recently served another warning to over a dozen credit rating agencies (CRAs) to mend their system of arbitrary ratings of corporates, banks and other financial instruments. According to the inputs with the revenue intelligence agencies, some members of the rating agencies are applying arbitrary parameters to artificially improve the ratings of their favoured clients. The probe started a couple of years ago when blue chip companies such as IL&FS and Yes Bank collapsed despite high ratings given to them by the agencies. Cross holding of many of these agencies has raised doubts about their professional conduct and integrity. The government feels ever since well-connected promoters of CRAs grabbed the role of the final jury, the number of NPAs has gone up massively during the past two decades. Credit Rating Information Services India Limited (CRISIL) was the first to set up its shop. It became the sole agency to certify the credit worthiness of any entity. Later many more like CARE, ICRA, SME Rating Agency of India, Brickwork Ratings, India Ratings and Research Pvt. Ltd (IR&R) and Infomerics Valuation and Rating Private Limited were set up either by the banks or those who were connected with the corporate world and retired civil servants. They are now analysing it to find out if any one of them were active beneficiaries of artificially inflated ratings by any one of these agencies. Even the business connections of all board members are under the scanner. Many icons are likely to fall if the probe is taken to its logical end. The eminence grise of the financial sector,

OMISSION IN COMMISSION AWAITING MODI'S PERMISSION

For Prime Minister Narendra Modi, reform and transform is a mission. All his slogans and actions are not disruptive but are aimed at a participative narrative. One of his favourite objectives has been to ensure the speedy delivery of justice. He promised that his government would repeal obsolete laws and acts which were causing distress. In the process, over 200 laws were either repealed or are in the process of vanishing from the statute books. One of the institutions which has been advising the Ministry of Law and Justice is the Law Commission. So far, 21 Law Commissions have been constituted for three years each. All of them have given 262 reports which led to not only the repeal of numerous ancient laws but also making new ones keeping in view the needs of the changing times. The term of the 21st Commission under Justice B.S. Chauhan ended in August 2018. Since then, the government hasn't made public the names of the 22nd Law Commission, though it was notified in February 2020. As the Commission has a fixed tenure of only three years, it would end without an official member or a Chairman member by the end of the year. During the past two years, over 30 Supreme Court Judges have retired, and most of them are well qualified to lead the Commission. The Law Ministry is flooded with the resumes of potential full time and part time members. But the otherwise hyperactive and uber fit Law Minister Kiren Rijiju hasn't given top priority to filling the vacancies. Perhaps, insiders feel that the reason for delaying the appointments is perhaps the leadership is not yet clear about the nature of reforms it expects the Commission to deal with. Once Prime Minister Modi's legal mission is defined, the jobs will be handed over to suitable candidates.

FROM GROSS ALLOCATIONS TO PERCENTAGE OF GDP

OPINION

AMAR PATNAIK
Rajya Sabha MP and former CAG bureaucrat
amar_patnaik@yahoo.com

VERY often, governments at the Centre and in the states defend their modest allocation for certain key sectors by citing absolute increases over the previous year instead of using GDP as a benchmark to measure the allocation. This is also seen in parliamentary debates and replies to MP's questions. However, the former method distorts reality. In a growing economy indicated by an increase in GDP numbers, it is a fair expectation that all sectors would see an increase in gross allocations. But what is important is whether these increases are at the same rate as the GDP increase rate. If not, it would indicate a lesser priority of the government for that sector.

For example, allocations as a percentage of GDP estimate for 2022-23 either declined or remained stagnant in 13 of the 21 key sectors compared to similar percentages last year. Amongst these 13 sectors are School Education, Higher Education, Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare, Environment, Health and Women and Child Development. These are, in fact, some of the thrust areas of the central government by its own admission. Though the Budget speech laid out a clear direction and reinforced India's commitment to the goal of achieving net-zero carbon emissions by 2070, the Budget allocated merely Rs. 3030 crore for the Ministry of Environment, which forms an abysmal 0.012% of GDP as compared to 0.03% of GDP in 2006-07. As stated by the MoEFCC in Rajya Sabha, India's announcements at COP26 require an additional climate financing of approximately $1 trillion.

Similarly, health allocation in the present Budget still constitutes a mere 0.335% of GDP, with no significant improvement over last year despite the country facing an ongoing public health crisis. This is concerning since the public health allocation was 0.26% of GDP in 2015-16, witnessing only a marginal improvement in seven years. Even if we consider the health allocation as a percentage of total expenditure, it doesn't bode well. The health outlay was 2.2% of the total expenditure in 2006-07. Fast forward to Budget 2022-23, the budgetary allocation towards health dipped to 2.1%. Interestingly, the cess-excluded allocation on health stands at about Rs 62,000 crore, or 1.6% of the total expenditure, signifying a sizeable reduction of allocations from out of the centre's share from the divisible pool of taxes and duties.

An even grimmer picture is visible in education. The total education outlay has stagnated in recent years when viewed through the prism of the percentage of GDP. The Economic Survey reveals that the combined outlay of the Centre and the States is 3.1% of GDP per 2021-22 BE. However, this outlay is the same as in 2013-14, dipping to 2.8% over the ensuing years before recovering in the backdrop of the pandemic.

Numbers in the agriculture and allied sectors don't inspire too much confidence either, having increased only marginally from 0.17% of GDP in 2006-07 to 0.51% of GDP in the present Budget across a span of 15-plus years.

> ...when we measure the allocations as a percentage of GDP, we begin to understand how small or large the allocation is. We also can draw linkages and comparisons with other sectors in the economy...

It is a well-established international practice to calculate and evaluate public expenditure as a percentage of GDP. Sectoral allocation in absolute terms is a one-dimensional metric that tells us nothing other than the basic value of government expenditure and fails to provide information about rising inflation, inequality or the spending's relationship with other economic allocations. Since India is a developing economy, our GDP is growing faster than other large economies. Hence, an increase in final allocations is all but expected.

In contrast, when we measure the allocations as a percentage of GDP, we begin to understand how small or large the allocation is. We also can draw linkages and comparisons not only with other sectors in the economy but also with other countries similarly placed as us and whom we aspire to emulate. This context helps prioritise the areas that need urgent focus and informs better policy-making.

India's per capita GDP grew five times from 2006-07 to 2022-23. However, the same increase is not visible in the allocations to key sectors. This has resulted in inequitable growth where the rich become richer, leaving the poor on the margins of society. India's Gini coefficient, a matrix to measure wealth inequality, stood at 82.3 in 2020, rising from 74.7 in 2000.

There needs to be a paradigm shift in how the country approaches its issues – changing the lens that informs decision-making. The government must depart from the old ways of viewing incremental, absolute increases in allocations as a successful milestone to measuring allocations as a percentage of GDP. Only then can it serve the needs of the people and sufficiently prepare itself for the 'Amrit Kaal'.

Repo rate

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) raising the key policy interest rate by half a percentage point draws the curtains on the cheap loans era. Amid geopolitical uncertainties and supply chain glitches, the central bank abandoned forward guidance but said that monetary policy would be "calibrated, measured and nimble" to ensure financial stability. RBI, though, retained the inflation and growth forecast for FY23. The rise in repo rate pinches borrowers, but fixed deposit rates could head north.

Changing IUML

This is with reference to the editorial dated on 06/05 titled IUML New Voice Of Conservatism. IUML is a grand old party having much influence in the state, and with deep socio-economic and cultural ties to both the Muslim community as well as India as a nation. As a reformist political party, they possess immense qualities to uphold the progressive culture of the community. But now-a-days they are deviating from their progressive path to pseudo-secular conservatism. This will be a threat to the state as well as the nation in maintaining peace and tranquility of the people.

Shun violence

Sundar Sarukkai has aptly narrated how violence originates in a man's mind. It is a fact that the roots of violence are greed or avarice, selfishness, discrimination, anger and aggressive mindset. Children at schools and home and women in households are subjected to violence globally since they are easy and soft targets for the strong. That is why, " might is right" still is a bitter truth. Patriarchal tendency is a form of violence. It is indisputable that the modern-day society is inclined towards violence because of violence shown in our movies as a symbol of supremacy. Old cinema highlighted virtues and sacrifices but present-day films are steeped in adventurism. The violence shown in our movies are copied from Western movies where the script and theme are mainly exacting vengeance to thrill young minds. Flora and fauna are slowly destroyed by violent behaviour of rapacious men killing forest inhabitants. The daily murders, arson, rape, destruction of properties, all point to the scale of violence of the strong. Administrations have to focus on minimising the spiralling violence daily. Revival of moral lesson classes in educational institutions will prove effective.

Right to protest

Apropos of 'Gandhis among 300+ detained after protest' (NIE August 6 2022). The opposition spearheaded by the main opposition party, Congress, led by the Gandhi siblings, held a protest on Saturday against inflation, unemployment and GST. The police detained over 300 protestors including Rahul and Priyanka. In a democracy, whatever is left of the 'opposition' reserves every right to red-flag and protest against issues that directly impact the people and to bring them to the notice of the government in power, even if the latter enjoys a huge majority in parliament. Having said that, the protestors must ensure that the Lakshman Rekha of protests isn't breached. After all, the security forces will not stand by with folded hands when the security of the president and the prime minister is at stake when the protestors march towards their residences. Right to reasonable protests must be safeguarded, and not crushed with an iron hand citing the usual excuse that the protests are 'politically motivated'.

RCP Singh, facing heat over graft charge, quits JD-U

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

HOURS after he was accused by some party workers of corruption and amassing huge wealth, former Union minister RCP Singh resigned from the primary membership of Janata Dal-United on Saturday and hinted at forming a new party soon. Singh, once considered the 'Hanuman' of Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, was estranged from him for some time now and was denied re-nomination to the Rajya Sabha by the JD-U. He resigned from Union cabinet days before his term in the Upper House came to an end on July 7.

He alleged that the corruption charges were levelled against him by two leaders of his home district Nalanda under a conspiracy.

According to the allegations, Singh had purchased 58 plots of land in two blocks of Nalanda between 2013 and 2022. The plots were purchased in the name of his wife and two daughters. JD-U state president Umesh Singh Kushwaha issued a show-cause notice to Singh saying the allegations were serious and asked him to reply at the earliest. Former Union minister and JD-U parliamentary board chairman Upendra Kushwaha said since the matter was now into public domain and the relevant investigating agency may take suo motu cognisance of the charges against Singh. Responding to a query, Kushwaha said the party had sought Singh's reply and will take action accordingly.

Singh had joined JD-U after taking voluntary retirement from IAS in 2010. He had served as national president of JD-U before he was inducted in Union cabinet and made steel minister in the Modi government. His relationship with Nitish got strained after he was denied nomination for Rajya Sabha for the third term. He owed political success to his proximity with Nitish during the latter's tenure as railway minister at the Centre.

When Nitish became CM, Singh was made his principal secretary. He was made national president of the party in January last year after Nitish relinquished the post under 'one man one post policy'.

Storm in Nepal's tea cup over possible India taxes

Tea producers fear that extra levies may mar exports to India

YESHI SELI @NewDelhi

NEPAL is worried about the survival of its tea sector over the possibility of India imposing levies on their exports.

"Diplomatically, India says that Nepal is like a younger sister for the country. However, they are threatening us with heavy levies which will lead to a crisis in the sector and endanger livelihoods of thousands of workers," said former vice-chairman, Tea and Coffee Board of Nepal, Santosh C Kunwar. The issue gained momentum after India's Parliamentary Standing Committee on Commerce in June recommended that the government apply stringent norms for certification of tea that comes from Nepal, in addition to duties.

"The parliamentary committee pointed out that the entry of low-quality products from the neighbouring countries was jeopardising the Indian tea industry, and asked that anti-dumping duty ranging from 40 per cent to100 per cent be imposed. The panel also called for reviewing the India-Nepal Treaty of 1950," said a source.

India is Nepal's largest customer. Out of the 30 million kg of CTC (crush, tear and curl) tea that the country imports annually, 15 million kg comes from Nepal. "India suspects that tea from Nepal (which is much cheaper than home grown tea) is being surreptitiously blended with Indian tea before being packed and sold in the market. Do we have any control on what the traders do locally?" Kunwar asked.

Blending of Orthodox tea imported from Nepal with Darjeeling tea is allegedly being done rampantly in India. The cost of the Orthodox tea from Nepal is less than half of what it costs in India. These are also the factors behind considering the levies on imports from Nepal.

Nepalese tea planters say they have to follow rigourous quarantine regulations once their supplies land in India — which includes a certification they need from Central Food Laboratory in Kolkata. "This certification is valid for only six months for one buyer and costs ₹30,000. If we intend to sell the same product to another buyer, we need another certification. Tea planters of Nepal are making a presentation to Prime Minister Sher Bahadur Deuba to convince the Indian authorities not to levy more taxes. If the bill number 171 (recommended by the Parliamentary Standing Committee) gets cleared, it would be a death knell for Nepal's tea sector," lamented Kunwar.

TROUBLE BREWING FOR NEPAL

- Parliamentary Standing Committee on Commerce says the entry of low quality products from the neighbouring countries was jeopardising the Indian tea industry
- The panel has also asked that the Indo-Nepal Treaty of 1950 be reviewed
- The panel has asked that anti-dumping duty ranging from 40-100 percent be imposed
- India is Nepal's largest customer, and any move to restrict exports will hit the industry hard, producers say

Nepal ships around 90 percent of its orthodox tea and 50 percent of its crush, tear and curl (CTC) tea to the southern neighbour

ASHWINI VAISHNAW

A TASKMASTER CRAFTED IN ART OF BABUDOM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

ASHWINI Vaishnaw is no stranger to the corridors of power, having been a deputy secretary in the office of former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee, albeit briefly. Soon after his induction into Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Council of Ministers in 2019, Vaishnaw made his intentions quite clear to the babudom. He was picked to perform and to that end, he would extract fruitful work, even if that meant being harsh – an earful here or an admonishment there – if only to drive the voluminous work at Railway Bhavan and the Communications and Electronics and Information Technology ministries.

On Saturday, too, he served an ultimatum to BSNL employees, saying that non-performance would invite compulsory retirement and they would be sent home packing.

However tough a taskmaster he may be, sources close to Vaishnaw say the 1994-batch Odisha cadre IAS officer is also a thoroughbred gentleman who is schooled not only in the labyrinthine ways of India's bureaucracy but also in the corporate world of efficiency. His competence shone through a few days ago when, in the backdrop of the government's withdrawal of the 2019 Personal Data Protection Bill, he said that he was "almost" ready with the new draft legislation.

While the 2019 Bill was withdrawn on the grounds that there were 81 suggestions for amendments, Vaishnaw promised that the fresh draft will uphold the principles of the Right to Privacy. The 2000 IT Act will also undergo tweaks. The two legislations will, the minister said, build a solid legal framework for the digital economy. More recently, Vaishnaw presided over successful 5G spectrum auction that garnered ₹150,173 crore.

Vaishnaw is as driven at Rail Bhavan. Last month, he unveiled a five-point plan to transform the Railways and enable it to move a billion people safely and sustainably in the years to come. His vision for the transport behemoth include world class stations, modern trains for comfort and speed, automatic train protection based on Kavach technology, moving more cargo to reduce logistics cost and the bullet train project. However, given the sheer size of the Indian Railways, Vaishnaw's bureaucratic and managerial trainings will be put to severe test. Hailing from Rajasthan's Pali district, Vaishnaw grew up in Jodhpur where he graduated in engineering from MBM Engineering College in 1991 and did his M.Tech from IIT-Kanpur. Vaishnaw realised his dream to be an administrator, cracking the UPSC Civil Services examination in 1994, securing 27th rank. He soon found himself as district magistrate of Balasore and Cuttack on Odisha. He made a mark for himself when, relying on varied data that he collected in the aftermath of the 1999 cyclone, the state government could devise safety measures for the affected people. In 2003, he moved to Delhi on deputation, serving as a deputy secretary in Vajpayee's PMO.

He remained in government service for seven more years. Before calling it a day, he served a two-year stint as deputy chairman of Mormugao Port Trust. In 2008, he moved to the US to pursue MBA at the prestigious Wharton School of Business in the University of Pennsylvania.

Vaishnaw went on to work for General Electric and Siemens AG before turning an entrepreneur in 2012, setting up Three Tee Auto Logistics Pvt Ltd and Vee Gee Auto Components Ptv Ltd in Gujarat.

Swadesh Darshan Scheme completes theme-based projects in 22 states

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

AIMING at development of world class infrastructure to promote tourism and heritage, the Swadesh Darshan Scheme (SDS) has successfully completed theme based circuit projects in 22 states. As per the minister of tourism, at least 44 projects in Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh (UP), Goa, West Bengal and Telangana are complete while a dozen projects in Andaman and Nicobar Island, Bihar, and Jammu and Kashmir are on the verge of completion as more than 90 percent progress has been achieved.

Since the launch of the scheme in 2014-15, the Government released ₹4,599.3 crore against a total allocation of about ₹5,300 crore for 76 projects.

A couple of states and union territories (UTs) have miserably been trailing, therefore the Centre has clearly apprised them that it would not sanction new projects under revamped — SDS 2.0-for them. "The ministry of tourism has issued instructions that new project under Swadesh Darshan scheme 2.0 will not be sanctioned to the States or UTs, which fail in successful completion of the already sanctioned projects," union tourism minister G Kishan Reddy last week stated in Lok Sabha while responding to the questions about the success story of the scheme.

Punjab, Maharashtra, Jharkhand, Tripura and Odisha are among the states, where projects sanctioned under this one of the flagship schemes of the ministry to boost tourism sector, are yet to be completed.

They are at different stages of progress; between 28 and 87 percent. Under SD2.0, the target is to develop sustainable and responsible destinations with a tourist and destination centric approach. To ensure success, the tourism ministry has started a process to engage consultants for project development and management for planning, supervision, and also monitoring of the scheme at the destination level.

Army's frontline troops to be armed with 5G communication

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

PUSHED by the fast-changing technological changes into the defence Indian Army has begun its catching up process to Absorb 5G (Generation) Technology. While the final reports of a tri-services study are being analysed, the Indian Army has taken few steps to build up the base.

A source in the Defence establishment said, "The Indian Army was the lead service in conducting a Joint Services Study on implementation of 5G in Defence Services. Recommendations of the study are being examined by the three services for implementing 5G use cases."

Army envisages to "exploit 5G for supporting operations in the tactical battlefield area." As the "high bandwidth low latency 5G connectivity is better suited for mission critical communication for front line troops." said the source. With the 5G networks will come the requisite data speed and capacity to support massive machine-to-machine links and communications along with low-latency and high-reliability services

Another step taken by the Indian Army is to initiate and expand into the field of Artificial Intelligence (AI). As informed, the Army has set up a maiden, state of the art Laboratory of AI working in all three sub domains of AI namely Computer Vision (CV), Natural Language Processing (NLP) & Info Retrieval has been established at the MCTE.

"It is constantly developing field deployable AI modules to include AI Based Biometric authentication using Facial recognition System (x FACE), Pro-Active Real-Time Intelligence & Surveillance Monitoring System (PRISM), AI Based Suspicious Vehicle Detection System (SVDS) 2.0 and Samapragya, an AI based tool for Social Media Monitoring and Analysis (Facebook, YouTube and Twitter) which provides insight and analysis of social media on various issues in summarized form." The sources said.

These systems are presently deployed at more than 140 units/ formations in the field Army.

The progress in AI has led to minimising the human interface where machines can take independent and accurate decisions be it recognition, calculation and decision. The Indian Army has deployed several units of AI Powered Smart Surveillance Systems in Northern and Western borders. The Unit is capable of handling heterogeneous inputs from devices such as sophisticated cameras, handheld thermal imagers."

Life term for two convicts for killing Dhanbad judge

Special CBI court in Jharkhand sentences auto driver, accomplice to life sentence over death of Additional District Judge Uttam Anand

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

A special CBI court in Dhanbad ordered rigorous life imprisonment to two convicts for killing a judge on July 28 last year while he was on a morning walk near his house.

Lakhan Verma and his accomplice Rahul Verma ran Additional District Judge (ADJ) Uttam Anand over by an autorickshaw.

The court also imposed a fine of ₹30,000 on each of them.

Special CBI judge Rajnikant Pathak had held the two guilty on July 28 — exactly a year after the incident — under Indian Penal Code sections 302 (murder), 201 (destroying evidence) and 34 (acts done in furtherance of common intention).

"The court pronounced rigorous life imprisonment and imposed a fine of ₹20,000 each under Section 302/34 and seven year imprisonment with ₹10,000 fine under section 201/34 to both of them," said defence lawyer Kumar Bimlendu. Half of the fine amount will go to victim's family, he added.

The advocate said there was no provision for remission in the case. CBI's special public prosecutor Amit Jindal, who was in Delhi and recently tested Covid positive, made his submission through video conferencing, he said.

"He told the court that the case involved an assault on a judge, therefore, it came under the rarest of the rare cases. The convicts had criminal antecedents and both of them intentionally committed the crime. Therefore, it was a fit case of capital punishment," said the defence lawyer.

The defence lawyer cited the tender age of the convicts, stressing that it was not a murder but an accident as both of them were in an intoxicated condition.

"They are first-time offenders. They are very young; one is 21 years old while the other is 22 years old. If given a chance, they will contribute to nation building," said Kumar.

The court said the case did not come under the rarest of the rare cases.

The family members of judge Uttam Anand said they are not satisfied with the court's verdict. "We will challenge the verdict in the high court," said Vishal Anand, brother-in-law of judge Uttam Anand.

CCTV footage showing an auto-rickshaw hitting the judge had raised doubts over the motive behind his killing. The Jharkhand High Court took suo motu cognizance of the matter, calling the incident a direct attack on the judiciary.

The state government had set up a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to probe the matter. But the Jharkhand High Court and the Supreme Court took cognizance of the incident and the state government subsequently handed over the probe to the CBI on Aug 4, 2021. The CBI re-registered the case and filed the charge sheet in October 2021.

The CBI filed the charge sheet against auto-rickshaw driver Lakhan Verma and his accomplice Rahul Verma on Oct. 20, 2021. Subsequently, the special CBI court framed charges against the two on Feb. 2 this year, and completed the trial after 35 hearings.

Judgement comes one year after incident

Politics heats up over GST on Garba events

The famous Garba events have got mired in a controversy after a Vadodara-based NGO, United Way of Baroda, popular for organising a mega dance event, mentioned GST rates on its website. The Congress and AAP have demanded withdrawal of 18% GST on entry passes for the events organised as part of the Navratri festival. State Minister for Home Affairs Harsh Sanghvi said the government has not levied any new tax on Garba events, and that GST has been in force since 2017, while before that, sales tax and VAT was imposed. He added that those who looking to form a government in the state raise such issues because they are ignorant.

Gujarat BJP's plan for Muslim constituencies

Aiming for yet another win in the upcoming Assembly elections, the ruling BJP has come up with a strategy to conquer the Muslim-dominant regions. Based on the feedback received from its membership drive launched in June, BJP now plans to give Assembly tickets to Muslim candidates at one or two places. If that is not possible, then it may give them a place in the organisation to boost its chances of victory. In June, during the drive led by Gujarat BJP president CR Patil, the party delegated responsibilities for 34 constituencies to its Muslim members who talked about the Central government's welfare schemes and decisions.

BSP MP Atul Rai gets acquitted in 3-year-old rape case in Varanasi

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

A special court of Varanasi on Saturday acquitted Bahujan Samaja Party MP Atul Rai in the rape case of a 24-year-old woman, who, along with her friend, died after committing self-immolation in front of the Supreme Court in August last year. The victim had filed a case against Rai, accusing him of raping her in 2019.

However, even after acquittal in the rape case, he would continue to remain in jail in the pending case of abetment of suicide of the victim filed in Lucknow, Rai's lawyer Anuj Yadav said.

Rai, who won the Lok Sabha election from Ghosi seat of Mau district in 2019, has been lodged in Naini Central jail of Prayagraj for three years.

Sharing the details, government counsel Jyoti Shankar Upadhyay said Additional District and Session Judge Siyaram Chaurasia examined nine prosecution witnesses and 15 defence witnesses. However, the victim and her friend's statements, recorded before their death, supported the prosecution theory, said Upadhyay.

Rai had contested the election on a BSP ticket from inside the jail.

When contacted, the victim's lawyer, Rajesh Yadav, said they would file an appeal against the judgment in the high court.

The victim had submitted a police complaint against Rai in 2018, alleging that he had been sexually harassing her for nearly a year. He surrendered before a court on June 22, 2019, and was sent to judicial custody.

On Aug. 16 last year, the victim and her 27-year-old friend went live on Facebook, accusing Rai of intimidation, and immolated themselves. They took the name of former IPS officer Amitabh Thakur claiming that he helped Rai and harassed them.

The UP Police booked Rai and Thakur at Hazratganj police station in Lucknow for abetting the suicide of the two. Thakur was made to retire by the Union Home Ministry in March last year in "public interest".

RAI NOT TO WALK OUT FREE YET

Even after acquittal in the rape case, Atul Rai would continue to remain in jail in the pending case of abetment of suicide of the victim filed in Lucknow, the BSP leader's lawyer Anuj Yadav said.

CISF jawan opens fire at colleagues, kills one

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

A CISF constable, part of the central force troop deployed to guard the premises of Indian Museum, Kolkata, opened fire indiscriminately from his service rifle on Saturday evening, killing one officer of the force. Manipur adopts resolutions for NRC, population panel

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

THE Manipur Assembly has unanimously resolved to implement the National Register of Citizens (NRC) and set up the State Population Commission. The decision followed two private member resolutions raised in the House on Friday.

Janata Dal-United MLA Kh Joykisan claimed that the growth of population in the state's hill districts rose from 153.30 per cent during 1971-2001 to 250.90 per cent during 2001-11. Similarly, he claimed, the same in the valley areas increased from 94.80 per cent during 1971-2001 to 125.40 per cent during 2001-2011.

Joykisan attributed the "abnormal" growth in population to the influx of non-Indians. He warned that if this trend continues, the smaller indigenous communities may face extinction. He urged the government to tackle the menace by putting in place the NRC and the population commission.

Recently, 19 tribal organisations had written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi to safeguard the state's genuine citizens through the implementation of the NRC. They expressed alarm over the alleged influx of illegal immigrants from Bangladesh, Nepal and Myanmar, which share a border with Manipur.

In a joint memorandum to the PM, they said the immigrants had settled down "autonomously" since the abolition of pass permit/permit system on Nov. 18, 1950 by the then chief commissioner, Himmat Singh.

"No discerning step was taken on the issue in the last 75 years under the Foreigners Act, 1946. This continuous influx and overflow has subsisted within us and taken possession of the socio-economic and political rights of the indigenous people," they stated.

According to them, non-tribals from Bangladesh and Myanmar occupied the Jiribam Assembly constituency and also got scattered in the Imphal valley. Likewise, they claimed, some lakhs of tribal immigrants from Myanmar and Lushai (Mizoram hills) settled down in the state.

"They have now counteracted ownership against the occupant indigenous people in hill areas," the organisations alleged, adding that the "Nepali" population has also increased "tremendously".

Manipur – largely a hill state – and Nagaland, Mizoram and Arunachal Pradesh are protected by the Bengal Eastern Frontier Regulation, 1873 or Inner Line Permit (ILP). The ILP is an official travel document that allows inward travel of Indian citizens from other states for a limited period.

The tribal bodies said the ILP had been implemented in Manipur without defining the indigenous populace.

The denial of the Residential Proof Certificates is nothing but the continuation of racial profiling of the Chakmas and the Hajongs. The Chakmas and the Hajongs will not accept this Kangaroo justice where the AAPSU has become the complainant, investigator, prosecutor and judges

Chakmas, Hajongs demand certificates

GUWAHATI: The Chakmas and the Hajongs in the BJP-ruled Arunachal Pradesh vented their ire on the streets on Saturday against the government's alleged attempt to "evict" them from the state through the denial of Residential Proof Certificates to them. The Changlang district administration had issued the RPCs to some Chakmas, but it was "suspended" by the state government after the All Arunachal Pradesh Students' Union announced a protest against it. The state government also ordered a probe into the issuance of RPCs by a five-member panel that has two AAPSU leaders. The Chakmas and the Hajongs criticised the Pema Khandu government for yielding to AAPSU's pressure. The Buddhist Chakmas and the Hindu Hajongs, numbering around 65,000 in Arunachal, were displaced by a dam in the then East Pakistan (now Bangladesh).

J&K PSI scam: B'luru-based coaching centre under CBI lens

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AFTER the police sub inspector's recruitment fraud in Karnataka, a coaching centre in Bengaluru – MeritTrac Services Pvt Ltd - is under the scanner of the CBI for PSI recruitment racket in Jammu & Kashmir (J&K).

The CBI on Friday conducted searches at 30 locations including in Bengaluru in connection with alleged irregularities in the selection of police sub-inspectors by the Jammu and Kashmir Services Selection Board (JKSSB), officials said.

The searches were launched at 28 locations in Jammu and one each in Srinagar and Bengaluru after the registration of an FIR against JKSSB member Narayan Dutt and thirty-two other accused, including middlemen and candidates, said the CBI.

The CBI registered a case on the request of the J&K government against 33 accused in the written examinations for PSI, J&K, which was conducted on March 27 this year by the JKSSB. The results were declared on June 4.

The accused allegedly entered into a conspiracy and committed gross irregularities in the examination. "It was alleged that an abnormally high percentage of candidates were selected from Jammu, Rajouri and Samba districts. Violation of rules was also found in assigning the task of setting up the question paper to a Bengaluru-based private company," the probe agency stated.

The J&K government cancelled the PSI recruitment last month and recommended a CBI probe into the selection process. The CBI has named Karnail Singh, a medical officer posted in Jammu, Avinash Gupta, Akshay Kumar, owner and manager of Edumax - a coaching centre in Akhnoor; MeritTrac Services Pvt Ltd, Bishan Dass and Anju Raina, JKSSB and others in the FIR.

Partha lone inmate in cell, has chit fund scam accused as neighbours

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

LYING on a blanket on the floor of cell no 2, former West Bengal commerce and industries minister Partha Chatterjee spent his first night in Presidency correctional home alone, with two chit fund scam accused occupying neighbouring cells.

Sources in the correctional home said after being brought there at 7 pm on Friday, Chatterjee was taken to the jail hospital for medical examination. He was then taken to a cell where he was lodged alone.

"Besides what was required for official purposes, Chatterjee did not interact with anyone. He was served roti, daal and vegetable curry for dinner, which he ate. On Saturday morning, he was given tea and biscuits," said a jail official.

Chatterjee's immediate neighbours in the jail are Sarda Group's Sudipta Sen and Rose Valley's Gautam Kundu, who are accused in the chit fund scam. "The same block also houses, Chhatradhar Mahato, the face of Lalgarh movement spearheaded by Maoists in 2008-09, in a case being probed by the National Investigation Agency. Another high-profile suspect, a close aide of American Center attack mastermind Aftab Ansari in 2002, is also in the same block," the official added.

The officials of the Enforcement Directorate (ED), the central agency which arrested Chatterjee and his close aide Arpita Mukherjee in an alleged recruitment scam in schools, handed over the suspended Trinamool Congress leader's clothes and books to him.

"We gave the items to Chatterjee but he did not show any interest in reading the books," another jail official said.

Arpita is lodged in Alipore correctional home for women, which is generally given to prisoners showing good conduct. The court directed the jail authorities to ensure her security after the ED's lawyer mentioned in his submission that Arpita faces threat to her life.

"Considering the court's directive, we kept her alone. Arpita broke down in tears after arriving on Friday evening. She skipped dinner. On Saturday morning, however, she took tea and biscuits and also had lunch," said a jail official.

Gujarat: Kejri's meets with traders trigger political row

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

AAM Aadmi Party convener Arvind Kejriwal's meetings with businessmen during his visits to Saurashtra have raised some heckles among the BJP leadership here.

In the past week, Kejriwal has held three 'town hall' meetings, in Rajkot, Veraval and Jamnagar. On Saturday, he alleged in Jamnagar that BJP leaders threatened traders not to attend AAP's events. AAP also revealed an audio tape in which a businessman is heard saying he was asked by GST officials to visit their office instead of going to AAP's programme.

Interacting with industrialists, he said, "If I am coming to meet the traders in Jamnagar, they are being intimidated. Am I a terrorist? I invite Gujarat chief minister to come to Delhi. We will not threaten anyone. Why does the BJP ban the exchange of good things?"

Some businessmen in Rajkot and Veraval had also said that they were stopped from attending Kejriwal's events. "We had received calls from BJP leaders asking what happened there, and what we did, etc. Local BJP leaders told many of us not to attend the AAP event. Those who could resist such pulls, attended," a businessman who attended AAP's event said on the condition of anonymity.

As per sources, the issue also came up in a meeting of the Rajkot Chamber of Commerce that was held after Kejriwal's function in Rajkot, wherein the vice president asked traders why they didn't raise their concerns before the Chamber instead of going to the event.

Denying the allegations, BJP Rajkot spokesperson Raju Dhruv said, "We have never stopped any opposition party from holding a meeting in Gujarat. We are not stopping anyone. The Congress has also held similar events here. If we want to stop any event, no one can hold any programme."

Lanka seeks to delay Chinese ship as India puts pressure

COLOMBO

SRI Lanka has asked China to indefinitely delay a visit by a ship which is reportedly a spy vessel. This decision comes following intense pressure by India, official sources said on Saturday.

The Yuan Wang 5 is en route from the Chinese port of Jiangyin and due in the Chinese-run Sri Lankan port of Hambantota on Thursday, according to analytics website MarineTraffic. It is described as a research and survey vessel, but according to media reports it is a dual-use spy ship, employed for space and satellite tracking and with specific usage in intercontinental ballistic missile launches.

The reports said that New Delhi was worried the vessel would be used to spy on its activities and that it had lodged a complaint with Colombo.

A senior Sri Lankan minister has said, "...Colombo will not do anything to harm the good understanding and trust existing with New Delhi." However, India remains suspicious of China's growing influence in its southern neighbour Sri Lanka. The foreign ministry last week said that it will closely monitor "any bearing on India's security and economic interests and takes all necessary measures to safeguard them". In a written request, the Sri Lanka foreign ministry told the Chinese embassy in Colombo not to go ahead with the visit, an official involved in the process told AFP on Saturday. "The ministry wishes to request that the arrival date of the vessel Yuan Wang 5 in Hambantota to be deferred until further consultations are made on this matter," the request says. Sri Lankan President Ranil Wickremesinghe assured political party leaders on Friday that the controversial visit will not go ahead as planned. Earlier this week, Colombo appeared to brush aside Indian concerns, saying the vessel was coming only to refuel and replenish supplies. Agencies

Taiwan accuses Beijing of simulating invasion

NATION HAS PUT ITS MILITARY ON ALERT, US HAS DEPLOYED NAVAL ASSETS

BEIJING

TAIWAN said on Saturday that China's military drills appear to simulate an attack on the self-ruled island, after multiple Chinese warships and aircraft crossed the median line of the Taiwan Strait following US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's visit to Taipei that infuriated Beijing.

Taiwan's armed forces issued an alert, dispatched air and naval patrols around the island, and activated land-based missile systems in response to the Chinese exercises, the Ministry of National Defense said. 20 Chinese aircraft and 14 ships continued to carry out sea and air exercises around the Taiwan Strait, it said.

The ministry said that zones declared by China as no-go areas during the exercises for other ships and aircraft had seriously damaged the peace. It emphasised that Taiwan's military does not seek war, but would prepare and respond for it accordingly.

China's Ministry of Defense said in a statement Saturday that it had carried out military exercises as planned in the sea and airspaces to the north, southwest, and east of Taiwan, with a focus on testing the capabilities of its land strike and sea assault systems.

Taiwan's army also said it detected four unmanned aerial vehicles flying in the vicinity of the offshore county of Kinmen on Friday night and fired warning flares in response. The four drones, which Taiwan believed were Chinese, were spotted over waters around the Kinmen island group and the nearby Lieyu Island and Beiding islet, according to Taiwan's Kinmen Defense Command.

Kinmen, also known as Quemoy, is a group of islands only 10 kilometres east of the Chinese coastal city of Xiamen in Fujian province in the Taiwan Strait, which divides the two sides that split amid civil war in 1949. "Our government & military are closely monitoring China's military exercises & information warfare operations, ready to respond as necessary," Taiwan's President Tsai Ing-wen said in a tweet. Taiwan has put its military on alert and staged civil defense drills, while the US has deployed numerous naval assets in the area.

Blinken blames China for closing military channels

Manila: China shut "military-to-military channels, which are vital for avoiding miscommunication and avoiding crisis, but also cooperation on transnational crimes and counter-narcotics, which help keep people in the US, China... safe," US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said

Meanwhile, US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said that China should not hold hostage talks on important global matters such as the climate crisis, after Beijing cut off contacts with Washington in retaliation for Pelosi's visit to Taiwan.

He cited cooperation on climate change as a key area where China shut down contact that doesn't punish the US, it punishes the world. AP

Indiana, the first state to approve abortion ban

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANA became the first state in the nation to approve abortion restrictions since the US Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade, as the Republican governor quickly signed a near-total ban on the procedure shortly after lawmakers approved it.

The ban, which takes effect September 15, includes some exceptions. Abortions would be permitted in cases of rape and incest, before 10-weeks post-fertilisation; to protect the life and physical health of the mother; and if a foetus is diagnosed with a lethal anomaly. Victims of rape and incest would not be required to sign a notarised affidavit attesting to an attack, as had once been proposed.

Abortion-rights protesters at Indiana Statehouse corridors | AP

Under the bill, abortions can be performed only in hospitals or outpatient centres owned by hospitals, meaning all abortion clinics would lose their licenses. A doctor who performs an illegal abortion or fails to file required reports must also lose their medical license.

"I am personally most proud of each Hoosier who came forward to courageously share their views in a debate that is unlikely to cease any time soon," Gov. Eric Holcomb said in the statement. "For my part as your governor, I will continue to keep an open ear."

His approval came after the Senate approved the ban 28-19 and the House advanced it 62-38.

Indiana was among the earliest Republican-run state legislatures to debate tighter abortion laws after the Supreme Court ruling in June that removed constitutional protections for the procedure. But it is the first state to pass a ban through both chambers, after West Virginia lawmakers on July 29 passed up the chance to be that state.

Indiana's ban followed the political firestorm over a 10-year-old rape victim who traveled to the state from neighbouring Ohio to end her pregnancy. AP

BSNL revival plan: Long road ahead

Experts feel BSNL should adopt 5G if it wants the revival plans to be successfully executed

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE government's decision to infuse ₹1.64 lakh crore in state-owned Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL) is probably the easiest part of its attempt to revive the ailing telecom company. Because what lies ahead is probably the toughest, if not an improbable task.

To be the fourth player in what looks like an already crowded telecom industry is not the most comfortable situation to be in. The industry is going through disruptions – both in terms of competition and technology -- and BSNL can't afford to be behind the curve despite the government's cash, if it has to have any chances of survival.

Telecom sector experts feel BSNL will have to quickly adopt 5G technology if it wants the ₹1.64-lakh-crore revival plans to be successfully executed. The loss-making BSNL's 5G leap shouldn't be delayed as happened with its 4G leap, they added. "Other operators are on the verge of launching 5G services and are expected to have adequate coverage (at least in prime areas) in another 3-4 years. Therefore, BSNL will soon have another technology cycle to catch up. And hopefully, BSNL's 5G leap will not be as delayed as its 4G leap if revival plans work out successfully," said Charu Paliwal, Research Analyst, Counterpoint Research.

Long winding road ahead

To give a lifeline to the ailing telco, the government recently approved a ₹1.64 lakh crore package. The relief package will be utilized to de-stress the BSNL's balancesheet, to expand its fibre reach and improve the quality of the company's services. With this package, the government expects the state-owned telco to be a profitable entity in next three years. Also, the government believes the company will be in a position to give competition to the private and established telecom operators like Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea.

"The 2019 relief package gave BSNL a lifeline. The package helped BSNL in becoming operational profitable. With the latest relief package, we expect BSNL to become net profitable in the next three-four years," said telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw while announcing the package. BSNL chairman Pravin Kumar Purwar also sounded optimism about the company's future growth .

"Out of the total ₹20,000 crore revenue, we annually get 3,000 crore from rural and rest of the ₹17,000 we get from urban and semi-urban areas. We get ₹5,500 crore from wireline while ₹7000 crore from wireless," said Puwar to support his optimism.

However, experts have a different take on it. They believe BSNL can give competition to private telcos in areas such as fixed-broadband and even earn decent revenue in the enterprise segment from small and medium businesses and consumers in rural areas, but that might not be good enough.

"Capital infusion will aid its much-needed 4G launch and network expansion, which is important for its long-term survival. It will help the operator to be in a better position to attract price-sensitive yet data hungry consumers and offer services to areas not yet covered by private players," says Paliwal of Counterpoint Research.

Capital alone won't do it

However, not everyone is convinced the package could make much of a difference.

Prashanth Tapse, Research Analyst, Senior VP (Research) of Mehta Equities believes that assumption of making operational profits would be difficult in the competitive environment wherein Bharti and Jio are in a tug-of-war to gain market share. Moreover, this is not the first revival package by the government to support and transform the stressed telco into a financially viable, sustainable and vibrant player.

The last package was granted in FY2019 for ₹₹24,000 crore for 4G upgrade but unfortunately, not allotted due to BSNL technology upgradation delay. The telcom sector being a highly capital-intensive area, BSNL misses the aggressive strategies to get things executed.

Tapse suggests that the government should focus on bringing in high-end technology and a team that can execute the plan of BSNL being a profit-making company. "And while its competitors are talking about 5G, BSNL is yet to implement 4G technology. For any meaningful turnaround, only monetary support will not be enough, it also needs change in working culture and corporate structure matching industry standards," added Tapse. There are reasons for this pessimism. The state-owned telco has suffered a loss of ₹50,631 crore in the past five years. And while after the ₹70,000 crore revival package in 2019, the telco turned EBITDA positive (operating profit) in 2020-21, it continues to lose its subscriber base. According to the information provided by the minister of state for communication Devusingh Chauhan, BSNL has lost around 2 crore subscribers in the past five years.

As per the latest telecom regulator data BSNL and MTNL together have a market share of only 10% in the wireless segment. In May 2022, the PSU lost around 5 lakh wireless customers. However, the company is doing well in the wire line segment. BSNL and MTNL together held 39.17% of the wireline market share as on 31st May, 2022.

RETICENT SPECTRUM BIDDERS, 'SCAM-TALK' MARK 5G ROLLOUT

GURBIR SINGH

WITH the completion of the auctions for 5G spectrum, India is well on the way to the next level of the telecommunication revolution. We are about three years behind the developed world but the telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw has promised quick allocation. If things go well, the telecom operators – Airtel, Reliance Jio and Vodafone Idea – may roll out commercial services as early as October, this year.

5G or the 5th generation mobile network – currently the highest global wireless standard – has evolved from 1G that gave us analog voice, past 2G and 3G that provided digital voice and mobile data, respectively, and then 4G that revolutionized communication through mobile broadband.

5G will now provide the step up with peak data speed that could be 20 times faster than the best we know, low latency – or lightningfast transmission for packets of data; and therefore great user experienceranging from live streaming entertainment to making hassle-free business presentations. It is designed to connect virtually everyone and everything to your phone – machines, home devices and objects – bringing to life the Internet of Things (IoT).

The government received record bids of over ₹1.5 lakh crore for the over 51,000 MHz of spectrum picked up by the telecom companies, almost double the ₹77,800 crore offered for 4G spectrum earlier. Mukesh Ambani's Reliance Jio expectedly made the largest acquisition acquiring 24,740 MHz for ₹88,000 crore followed by Airtel, that bought 19,867 MHz for around ₹43,000 crore.

Is there a scam?

Despite all the media hype, the auctions have not gone too well for the government. Of the 72,098 MHz offered in the auction, only 51,236 MHz or 71% of the spectrum was sold. Though ₹1.5 lakh crore was raised from sales of spectrum, the telecom minister had projected collections of ₹5 lakh crore. Moreover, ₹4.3 lakh crore was the reserve price set for a total of 72 gigahertz (GHz) of spectrum in 22 telecom circles. However, only 35% of the reserve price was realized.

LACKLUSTRE SHOW

Despite all the media hype, the 5G spectrum auctions have not gone too well for the government. Of the 72,098 MHz offered in the auction, only 51,236 MHz or 71% of the spectrum was sold. Though `1.5 lakh crore was raised from sales of spectrum, the telecom minister had earlier projected collections of `5 lakh crore

This has opened the door for former telecom minister A. Raja to allege that there was a 'huge 5G scam'. Posing the question 'Where has the money gone?' he hinted darkly it was a set-up with corporate groups: "When you search for something on the internet, you will get results in 10 seconds when you use 2G, 5 seconds when you use 4G, and in 5G, you will get the results in a second. That is how efficient 5G is. When you compare the numbers based on this efficiency, the 5G auction should have attracted bids worth at least ₹5-6 lakh crore."

Responding in defense, minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said: Many bands were not sold, what was not sold remains with the government. How does that become a scam? The sold spectrum was valued at ₹1,50,173 crore and the unsold spectrum was valued at ₹2,81,432 crore, while the 600 MHz and 2300 MHz bands remained unsold entirely due to the "weak ecosystem of mobile telephony in these segments".

Valuation vs affordability

But what's sauce for the goose, is sauce for the gander. The basis of the '2G allocation scam', dug up by the then Comptroller and Auditor General Vinod Rai in 2007-08, was a claim that minister Raja and his cohorts caused a presumptive loss of ₹1.76 lakh crore to the exchequer. The 'presumption' was based on some fuzzy, unsubstantiated valuation.

On investigation the CBI in its chargesheet lowered the estimated loss to ₹20,000-30,000 crore. Finally, in December 2017, a special court acquitted all the 26 accused including prime-accused – ministers Raja and Kanimozhi. In its ruling the court noted: "Some people created a scam by artfully arranging a few selected facts and exaggerating things…"

We don't know whether A Raja will now take Vaishnaw and others to court, but the latter's claims that the spectrum the government has held back is valued at Rs 2.81 lakh crore is speculative. The real value is what the telecom operators will buy it at, and right now the mood is conservative and not upbeat.

Another aspect of the 2G scam debate was the proposition: Should government sell spectrum at the highest value; or, should it be sold at affordable rates to keep mass communication services within reach of the common man? Over the last decade or two, governments have learnt the hard way: that if you squeeze the telecom companies too hard for revenue, they collapse.

On the flip side, the benefits are huge. For the consumer, 5G will expand the mobile ecosystem to new extreme reality (XR), seamless IoT capabilities, and instant cloud access. For business and the economy, 5G is driving growth on a world scale, andis estimated to generate $13.1 trillion and create nearly 23 million jobs by 2035. So less politics, please, and more tech empowerment for the masses.

SBI net profit declines 6.7% on mark-to-market losses

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE BANK OF INDIA, the country's largest bank, on Saturday reported a 6.7% year-on-year (YoY) fall in net profit to ₹6,068 crore in the first quarter of FY23 due to mark-to-market losses. On a sequential basis, the net profit declined by one-third. In the January-March quarter, the state-owned bank had posted a net profit of ₹9,113 crore.

Though interest income of the bank rose 10.85% year-on-year and 2.75% quarter-on-quarter to ₹72,676 crore. The net interest income, which is interest income less interest expenses, also posted a double-digit growth (12.87%) to ₹31,196 crore. The domestic net interest margin (NIM) during the first quarter improved by 8 bps YoY to 3.23%. The net interest margin is a key profitability indicator of banks. A higher NIM means the bank is earning more profits from its assets (loans and advances). The bank in a statement said that the MTM losses also had an adverse impact on bank's Return on Assets and Return on Equities, which stand at 0.48% and 10.09%, respectively.

BIRMINGHAM 2022 commonwealth games

BRUM'S DAY

14.94 Jamaica's Shanieka Ricketts set a CWG record en route to winning gold in the women's triple jump. The World Championships silver medallist posted a Games record of 14.94 metres on Friday.

I went through on the inside with a lap to go and I saw Jake (Wightman) next to me. And I started to panic because he is the world champion. But I tried to hold my composure.

SABLE'S DREAM CHASE

India athlete puts up epic show to win 3000m steeplechase silver with NR mark

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE final few strides were ridiculously quick. The finish seemed surreal. There was disbelief. No, not because of the result. One of the two athletes touching the tape in a photo finish was not a Kenyan. The man in blue was shaking his head as if in frustration. If only he were a fraction of a second faster! In such races, the slenderest of margins separate the gold and silver.

Saturday was such a day. Country's one of the most consistent performers, Avinash Sable, almost dislodged Kenya from the throne. The 3000m steeplechase exponent from India, despite making a desperate lunge towards the end, finished second with another national record — his ninth since he started competing in this discipline — to win silver. The clock read 8:11.20s. Kenya's Abraham Kibiwot, who finished fifth at the World Championships, managed to maintain his lead with timing of 8.11.15s.

Just to put the silver in perspective and how Sable managed to break the dominance of Kenyans, Worlds bronze medallist and former double Worlds and Olympic champion, Conseslus Kipruto, finished sixth. The other Kenyan, Amos Serem, was way behind Sable in third with a timing of 8:16.83s. Since the 1994 Games when Canada won bronze, this is the first time Kenya failed to sweep the steeplechase event.

So when Athletics Federation of India president, Adille Sumariwalla, said, "Avinash has broken the national record again and he has shown he can run as good as Kenyans", the words reflected Sable's feat.

Ever since Sable descended from the treacherous Siachen Glacier to the tracks where he started pursuing athletics, he had always shown traits of a champion. He is so focussed that whatever task he is given, he works steadfastly to get it done. He has one of the best work ethics. "You give him a task and forget about it. He will ensure that he gets it done," Amrish Kumar, the coach who introduced him to steeplechase and trained him until the Tokyo 2020 Olympics last year, used to say. Sable, who had a disappointing World Championships during a tactical race, broke from the Kenyan and threatened to dislodge them from their perch. Just after the last water jump, Sable tried to nudge forward but somehow Kibiwot managed to hold on. Assessing his run, thousands of miles away, coach Amrish said he managed to stay out of the box and outran the Kenyans. He did not fall behind and one reason was that he had self-belief.

Battle-hardened after spending time in the Army and braving extreme conditions in places like Siachen where the temperature drops below -50 degrees Celsius and a village in Rajasthan where it shoots above 50, Sable started training in 2017. And his inter-state timing in Guwahati in 2018 was 8.49.25s.

In the last four years, he has broken the national record nine times. "We started breaking the national records from 2019 and in Tokyo 2020, we brought it down to 8:18.12s," said Amrish. Sable started breaking national records in 2018. His national records since the 2018 Open Nationals in Bhubaneswar reads 8:29.80s; 8:28.94s Federation Cup, March 2019 in Patiala; 8:25.23 in heats during the World Championships in October 2019 and then 8:21.37s in the final. In 2021, 8:20.20s at the Federation Cup Athletics Championships in Patiala. Then there were 8:18.12s in Tokyo 2020 and 8:16.21 at Indian GP in March this year, followed by 8:12.48s in Rabat and 8.11.20s now.

Sable shifted his base from India to Colorado Springs in April. The AFI hired a new coach, Scott Simmons, and he has been training with him in the US. Running with world class athletes helped. "More exposure will help him improve his timing and also will give him confidence," said Amrish.

After the race, Kibiwot reportedly said, "I know the guy who was following me and I know he is not that fast. I was not afraid of him so that is why I controlled the race at the front."

Priyanka walks into history books with silver medal return

AGENCIES @Birmingham

PRIYANKA Goswami scripted history as she became the first Indian woman to win a medal in race walk with a silver medal in 10,000m event at the Commonwealth Games here on Saturday.

Goswami clocked a personal best time of 43:38.83s to finished second behind Jemima Montag (42:34.30) of Australia. Emily Wamusyi Ngii (43:50.86) of Kenya took the bronze.

The other Indian in the fray, Bhawna Jat, finished eighth and last with a personal best time of 47:14.13.

Harminder Singh was the first Indian to have won a medal in race walk — bronze — in the 20km event in 2010 CWG in Delhi. "This is the first Commonwealth Games medal in walking for an Indian woman. I'm really pleased to have created a piece of history," Goswami said after the event.

"I wasn't thinking about the Australian (gold medallist Jemima Montag), when you look at what we did at the Olympics in Tokyo and the world championships last month she is a better walker than me. I just concentrated on my own race and I hope to close the gap on her (in the future) step-by-step."

Asked about the mascots and fingernails she was having, Priyanka said, "I have a Lord Krishna and I take him with me to every competition and he brought me luck today. "I have also painted my nails with the flags of the country where I compete so I have England for the Commonwealth Games, Japan for the Olympic Games, Spain because I raced there and some other flags as well."

Men's team clinches lawn bowls silver

AGENCIES @Birmingham

INDIA won their second medal in lawn bowls competition at the CWG as the men's fours team settled for a silver medal after losing to Norther Ireland in the final here on Saturday. The final score read 18-5 in favour of Northern Ireland.

The Indian team comprised Sunil Bahadur (lead), Navneet Singh (second), Chandan Kumar Singh (third) and Dinesh Kumar (skip). Northern Ireland's last gold medal in lawn bowls came way back in the 1998 edition.

'Unlucky' hockey women

It was a heartbreak for the Indian women's hockey team as it lost 0-3 in the shoot-out to four-time champions Australia after both the teams were tied 1-1 at the end of regulation time in the semi-final on Friday. The Indians, however, should consider themselves unlucky as Malone initially missed her first attempt for Australia but the umpires gave her a second chance as the clock didn't start on time. From thereon, India couldn't come back.

After trying one year, Vinesh creates golden history

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

EXACTLY one year and one day ago (August 5, 2021), star wrestler Vinesh Phogat suffered heartbreak and made an early exit from the 2020 Tokyo Olympics. Immediately after she was suspended by the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) for indiscipline. Breaking her silence a few days later, she talked about the concussion and depression she suffered. In September she underwent surgery on her right elbow after pulling out of the World Championships.

Given the situations she was dealing with both on and off the wrestling mat, Vinesh was no longer the in the limelight. Despite the emotional turmoil and physical pain, she returned to training putting behind all setbacks as she did in 2016 after a freak injury forced her out of the Rio Games.

She won the selection trials in 53kg to book a Birmingham ticket in May this year and pounced on her rivals at the Coventry Arena on Saturday to become the first Indian woman wrestler to win three successive gold medals at the Commonwealth Games. Only Sushil Kumar had bagged three gold at the event (66kg gold in 2010, 74kg gold in 2014 and 2018) before Vinesh achieved the feat.

"We always know that she will create history at the CWG and the way she demolished her rival from Canada in the first bout, it was quite evident that she would finish on top of the podium," Om Prakash Dahiya, Vinesh's childhood coach, told this daily.

The opening bout was supposed to be the toughest one for the Haryana wrestler as she was scheduled to face world 2021 World Championships bronze medallist Samantha Stewart from Canada. However, Vinesh pinned her in 36 seconds to start her campaign with a bang. She then outclassed Nigerian Mercy Bolafunoluwa Adekuoroye in the next bout. With only four wrestlers in the women's 53kg draw, Vinesh needed to beat Chamodya Keshani Maduravalage from Sri Lanka to create history and she did it with ease to bag gold.

Gold for Ravi

Tokyo Olympics silver medallist Ravi Dahiya (57kg) also had an easy start as he beat Suraj Singh from New Zealand 10-0 by technical superiority. Pakistan's Asad Ali was his next opponent but it didn't matter. Ravi emerged victorious 14-4, once again by technical superiority. The final was no different as the 24-year-old from Haryana beat Ebikewenimo Welson from Nigeria 10-0 by technical superiority to win gold in his maiden CWG outing.

Pooja Gehlot (50kg), Pooja Sihag (76kg) and Deepak Nehra (97kg) won a bronze each to make it 12 medals from 12 wrestling events at the CWG.

Parents' sacrifices help Naveen finish on top

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THE nation was mesmerised by Ravi Dahiya's story when the Haryana wrestler clinched the Tokyo Olympic silver last year. While Ravi's tenacity amazed everyone, it was his father Rakesh Dahiya who drew maximum attention for his untiring efforts and sacrifices. The father used to travel around 60km from Nahri village (Haryana) to Delhi's Chhatrasal Stadium every day to ensure his son got the best diet.

Naveen is yet another Indian wrestler, whose father Dharampal Malik, who owns a small piece of land in Pugthala village (Haryana), is doing the same chores for the past 10 years so that his sons shine on the mat. He has been travelling 35-40km every day from his village to Sonepat to deliver milk, butter, ghee and homecooked food to his sons — Naveen and elder brother Parveen. "He leaves home at 5:30 am. It takes him around two hours to reach our akhada boarding a bus. My mother Gunwati wakes up early at 3:30 am to cook food. This has been going on for the past 10 years," Parveen said. Dharampal and Gunwati would be proud parents as their son Naveen won gold on his maiden Commonwealth Games outing in Birmingham on Saturday. He beat Pakistan's Muhammad Sharif Tahir in the final. Naveen followed the footsteps of his brother, who was pursuing Greco-Roman wrestling. In 2016, Parveen got employed by the Indian Navy as a petty officer and moved to Raipur Akhada in Sonepat where the Navy wrestlers train. Naveen also shifted along with his brother. Naveen made his international debut at the U-23 World Championships last year and won 74kg gold in his second meet at the U-23 Asian Championships in June.

No smartphone

The budding wrestlers are advised to avoid using smartphones at the akhada as the coaches believe them to be the biggest distraction. "Naveen uses the basic phone and whenever he goes overseas for a tournament, he borrows a smartphone from his brother," said Kuldeep.

Boxers Amit, Nikhat & Nitu move into final

AGENCIES @Birmingham

INDIAN boxer Amit Panghal (51kg) displayed his class as he reached his second consecutive Commonwealth Games final while Nitu Ganghas (48kg) also remained on course for a gold in her maiden appearance here on Saturday. Nikhat Zareen (50kg) also put up a dominating performance to march into the final. Jaismine Lamboria and Mohammed Hussamuddin settled for bronze medal after losing their semifinal bouts.

Amit came from behind to beat an aggressive Patrick Chinyemba of Zambia with a 5-0 unanimous decision win. Nitu, on the other hand, prevailed over Canada's Priyanka Dhillon as she notched a RSC (Referee Stops Contest) win.

Sindhu enters semis

PV Sindhu beat Malaysia's Goh Wei Jin (19-21, 21-14, 21-18) in women's singles quarterfinals to stay on course for a maiden individual gold medal at the CWG. However, young Aakarshi Kashyap's CWG debut ended with a 10-21, 7-21 defeat to Scotland's Kristy Gilmour.

INDIA ROUND-UP

DIPIKA-SAURAV LOSE IN SEMIS, TO PLAY FOR BRONZE

The Indian mixed doubles pair of Dipika Pallikal and Saurav Ghosal suffered a 0-2 loss to New Zealand's Joelle King and Paul Coll in the semifinals of the squash competition. The Indian duo lost 7-11 4-11 and missed out on a spot in the final of the event. Dipika and Saurav will play for the bronze medal on Sunday.

SHARATH ASSURES INDIA OF TWO MORE MEDALS IN TT

Star paddler Sharath Kamal continued his sensational run to reach the finals of both the men's and mixed doubles events. Sharath first paired up with G Sathiyan to beat the Australian pair of Nicholas Lum and Minhyung Jee 3-2 in a men's doubles semifinal clash. Sharath then combined with Sreeja Akula to enter the mixed doubles final.

HAPPY OUTING

India on cusp of glory as Mandhana takes team to final

GOMESH S @Chennai

ENGLAND needed 33 runs from four overs and they still had Natalie Sciver and Amy Jones in the middle. Deepti Sharma has the ball in hand. She and Sneh Rana had had a good day with the ball up until that point, but they still had a job at hand. Win and enter the final for the Commonwealth Games and compete for the gold. Lose and play for the bronze. The pressure was palpable.

They have been in this situation before. Whether it was the league game against South Africa in the 2022 ODI World Cup or the final against England five years ago, or the T20 World final in 2020. And every time, India have crumbled under pressure, ending up with heartbreak. This is why, when Smriti Mandhana said after the match that she was praying to all the gods that are there more than thinking about the fielding in the final moments, it was completely believable.

But before looking up to fate and hoping that they would reach the final, Mandhana had done what she could with the bat on the field to the best of her abilities. Unlike the previous global tournaments — Mandhana averages 37.26 in ODI World Cups and 18.62 in T20 World Cups — the Indian vice-captain has been at the top of her form, performing consistently in every match. And Saturday was no different.

Right from ball one, the southpaw was the aggressor as she took apart the England bowling attack to cleaners.

Indian women's team celebrates after their semifinal win over England | CWG MEDIA

Mandhana's trademark drives, pulls, lofts down the ground were all on display as the 26-year-old forged her touch of elegance and timing with placements to put India on the front foot. The dominance was such that when India reached the 50-run mark in just 4.3 overs, Mandhana was batting on 45 runs from 21 balls with Shafali Verma on five of six.

The southpaw kept going — unleashing her full wrath on England to an extent where she scooped and slog swept with disdain — registering the fastest T20I fifty by an Indian (23 balls) breaking her own record. By the time she got out for a 32-ball 61 to a scoop shot off a slower ball from Sciver, India were on top. And despite the middle-over struggles, Jemimah Rodrigues (31-ball 44 n.o) and Deepti (22), once again, took India to 164/5. While spinners dominated the proceedings with the balls, India were once again under pressure, with two set batters in the middle before the last four overs.

Deepti, who had conceded 15 from three overs up until that point, bowled brilliantly giving away just three runs in the 17th over. Jones was run out in the next over, but Sciver was still batting. And the England stand-in skipper took the attack to Pooja Vastrakar in the 19th, scoring 12 off the first four balls. But, as she pushed for a non-existent two off the fifth delivery, Mandhana's throw from the deep caught her short, all but ensuring India's place in the final.

As Rana successfully defended 14 runs, helping India win by four runs, celebrations broke in the dugout. After years of heartbreaks, they had held their nerve against a top team to enter the gold medal match in their maiden appearance at the Commonwealth Games. And they are one good day at the office away from making history.

Selva clinches silver at U-20 Worlds

Indian triple jumper Selva P Thirumaran improved his personal best to clinch the silver medal at the World U20 Athletics Championship here. The 17-year-old managed a distance of 16.15m to finish two centimetres ahead of Estonia's Viktor Morozov. The gold went to Jamaican Jaydon Hibbert who broke the championship record with his 17.27m effort.

Gukesh pulls off huge heist, helps India beat US

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Mahabalipuram

FABIANO Caruana had his hands on his head. The same gesture was being aped by Wesley So and Leinier Perez Dominguez. Levon Aronian was sipping a beverage, wearing a blank expression. The much-vaunted 'dream team', a moniker that was bestowed on the US side before they arrived for the Olympiad, were expected to walk the Open section. Their form, though, has been patchy at best.

On Saturday, the four super GMs — all of them having ratings of above 2700 — ran into four Indian teenagers (three 16-year-olds and one 18-year-old), prodigies touted to reach the promised land — 2700 and beyond — in due course.

At stake was more than just wounded pride. The US knew that with a win, they could recover lost ground to make a serious dash for the medal placings. By the time the tie finished, the unthinkable had happened. All four teenagers produced on demand, elite-level chess to stun their higher-rated opponents to help the hosts to a fine 3-1 win.

Placing their hands on their head is very common among chess players. Inside hall one on Saturday, though, it was symbolic of US' problems. They were given a mighty headache.

The star of the show, not for the first time, was D Gukesh. The 16-year-old Chennai boy, who is said to have the highest ceiling among the current crop of chess-playing centennial geniuses, produced his biggest Classical win till date, taking down Fabiano Caruana, who played the 2018 World Championship match against Magnus Carlsen. Raunak Sadhwani too prevailed over Dominguez to secure the match points after R Praggnanandhaa and Nihal Sarin secured two draws.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS (ONLY INDIAN TEAMS)
● Armenia bt India A 2.5-1.5 ● India B bt USA 3-1 ● India C lost to Peru 1-3.
WOMEN ● India A drew with Ukraine 2-2 ● India B bt Croatia 3.5-0.5 ● India C bt Poland 1-3.

India B's D Gukesh defeated Fabiano Caruana on Saturday | R SATISH BABU

What made Gukesh's win even more remarkable was Caruana, who has been swimming in choppy waters all through the week, began better. Starting with white pieces, already an inherent advantage according to engines, Caruana caught Gukesh out with an unfamiliar opening. "I didn't know the line he played," the 16-year-old admitted as much following the game. "I tried to hold on. After he played b4, I got some counter play." Gukesh was referring to Caruana's 24th move. After that move, the engine slowly but surely began tilting the game in Gukesh' favour. They traded pawns soon after as Caruana tried to rectify the situation by being proactive. He responded with a knight to c5 and that proved to be the beginning of the end. Gukesh attacked with a queen to d5. All of a sudden, Gukesh was now in the driving seat and he had a clear line of attack.

After 'suffering a little bit,' in the words of Judit Polgar in the commentary box, 'we are witnessing history,' she noted. "We see a youngster flying. Completely winning position, so close to getting his eighth win." After the 40th move, Gukesh went extremely aggressive, with the endgame in sight. Caruana had no choice but to throw in the towel.

"I just play to win, irrespective of black or white. Play aggressive," he said. Interestingly, he called the game a 'learning experience'. "It's a learning experience for me. Opening, I was outplayed. I didn't panic a lot because I still took it as an opportunity for me to prove to myself" that he can still play against strong opponents.

The win also makes him India's No 2 on live ratings (2729.1), behind only Viswanathan Anand.

For India A, it was below-par as they lost to Armenia in a marathon tussle, with the game on the top-board — between P Harikrishna and Gabriel Sargissian — going for six hours and 40 minutes. It ended with Sargissian prevailing.

In the women's section, India and Ukraine played four draws for a 2-2 score. The hosts, though, are on the top of the standings with 15 points.

FIFA threatens to suspend AIFF

AGENCIES @New Delhi

WORLD football governing body FIFA has threatened to suspend the AIFF and strip of its right to host the women's U-17 World Cup in October due to a third party "influence", a development which comes just days after the Supreme Court's directive to hold elections of the national federation.

The Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the executive committee of the All India Football Federation (AIFF) to expeditiously hold elections as per the schedule proposed by the Committee of Administrators (CoA), which is currently running the affairs of the national federation. It took note of the fact India is due to host the FIFA Under-17 Women's World Cup from October 11.

The elections were to be held on August 28 and the poll process was to start on August 13, as the top court approved the timeline prepared by the CoA.

"We kindly ask the AIFF to provide us without further delay with an official transcript of the Supreme Court's decision of 3 August 2022 by 17:00 hours Indian Standard Time on 9 August 2022," FIFA said in a letter sent to acting AIFF General Secretary Sunando Dhar.

"Upon receipt of the said documentation and following its in-depth analysis, should there exist serious deviations to the aforesaid roadmap, we would submit the matter to our relevant decision-making body for further considerations and possible decisions based on FIFA Statutes, including the suspension of the AIFF and the withdrawal of the hosting rights for the 2022 FIFA U-17 Women's World Cup in India."

FIFA made it known that it is against any third party intervention to the running of its member units. "In this context, we would like to recall the AIFF's statutory obligations applicable to all of FIFA and the AFC member associations, including the obligation to manage its affairs independently and ensure that its own affairs are not influenced by any third parties (cf. art. 14.1.(i) and art. 19.1 of FIFA Statutes in conjunction with art. 15.4 of the AFC statutes)."

Tottenham off to a flier, Liverpool draw Fulham

AFP @London

LIVERPOOL'S Premier League title challenge got off to a sluggish start as the Reds were held 2-2 at newly-promoted Fulham, while Tottenham delivered on their hype by thrashing Southampton 4-1 Saturday.

Aleksandar Mitrovic maintained his stunning form from last season in the Championship as the Serb outmuscled Trent Alexander-Arnold to head Fulham into a deserved half-time lead.

The introduction of Darwin Nunez in the second half brought Liverpool to life and the Uruguayan flicked home his first Premier League goal. Mitrovic restored Fulham's lead from the penalty spot after he was tripped by Virgil van Dijk inside the area. But Mohamed Salah ensured Liverpool at least did not start the season with a defeat.

Spurs also fell behind to James Ward-Prowse's strike from the edge of the box after just 12 minutes, but the response from Antonio Conte's men was emphatic as goals from Ryan Sessegnon, Eric Dier and Dejan Kulusevski gave them a thumping win. Mohammed Salisu scored an own goal.

Perfect start for Gunners

Mikel Arteta praised Arsenal's ability to ride out a second-half onslaught from Crystal Palace to make the perfect start to the season with a 2-0 win at Selhurst Park on Friday. Gabriel Martinelli's header gave them a deserved half-time lead before Marc Guehi's own goal late on then sealed the three points for the Gunners.

Results: Friday: Crystal Palace 0-2 Arsenal. Saturday: Bournemouth 2-0 Aston Villa; Fulham 2-2 Liverpool; Leeds 2-1 Wolves; Newcastle 2-0 Nottingham Forest; Tottenham 4-1 Southampton.

INJURY CONCERNS

Harshal racing against time for T20 WC

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

INDIA pacer Harshal Patel is racing against time to be fit in time for the T20 World Cup to be played in Australia in October-November. The 31-year-old who last played in the T20Is against England has remained unavailable for selection for the limited-overs against West Indies and on Saturday was ruled out of the remaining two matches in Florida.

A statement released by the BCCI said: "Harshal Patel has not fully recovered from his rib injury and is ruled out of the remaining two T20Is against West Indies." It is understood that Patel will need at least six-eight weeks to recover from the injury, which means he will miss the Asia Cup, which begins in the UAE on August 27. Patel's injury is a big blow to the Indian team, as he was expected to play a pivotal role in the T20 World Cup.

Although India are not short on options when it comes to the pace department, Patel's variations makes him unique as batters have struggled to pick his slower ones in the end overs. Patel will head to the National Cricket Academy for rehabilitation and further assessment of his injury.

In case he is ruled out of action for six-eight weeks, Patel will face an uphill task to prove his fitness before the two home series against Australia and South Africa. India's Asia Cup squad, which is expected to be announced over the next couple of days, will more or less resemble the one that they will take to Australia to win the T20 World Cup.

Patel's injury means left-arm seamer Arshdeep Singh stands a good chance to make the cut for the World Cup.
